

To The Graduates

Members of 1992 Rockcastle County High School Graduating Class

You have finally made it! You did it. You are responsible for receiving an education and a diploma from this high school. I know that you have worked hard, that you have studied and practiced hard and that you have put effort and energy into earning this diploma. I know that you are guilty and fully deserve what you have gotten. And how do I know you deserve this diploma? That is simple. I have had the opportunity to meet you first hand. I have come to know you. I have come to appreciate your intelligence, your dedication and your endless and seemingly tireless efforts to achieve something great.

Take this training and the diploma and cherish them. They say, in a very real way, just how much we cherish you. Think of them not as an end of an effort, but rather as one milestone on a long path, and know that you have made an excellent beginning. Again, my congratulations to each and every one of you.
