Ms. Brewer's class has been very excited about their attendance this year. They have been for pizza four times.

They have recently studied Indiana, Thanksgiving, Rain Forest and Environment. They enjoyed studying all these different subjects. While they studied each of these subjects, they read, wrote, and learned about that particular subject as much as possible. They will study popcorn this week.

In Math, they are very proud of their progress. They have already learned how to add numbers to four digits, how to regroup. They have learned how to add and subtract money and count change. They used their computers, games, worksheets, and books to help them learn about math problems and money. They are also beginning to really enjoy math problem-solving activities.

They have two birthday girls for December in Ms. Brewer's class. They are Jessica Jones and Tammy Peyton. The class wishes them a "Happy Birthday."

Tiger Pause

Congratulations to the family of Caroline, Keith, and Ben Graves.

They have a new member, Edison Lige, born Monday, November 23rd. Mrs. Graves teaches middle school Math and Ben is in our entry level primary program.

Mrs. Katreka Cash, Mrs. Kathy Reynolds and students want to thank Gary Centry of Southern Belle for the milk cartons donated to make periscopes in their science classes.

Our school has received reported data from the Continuous Assessment administered to grades 2, 3, 5, 6 and 7. These tests, given in the spring of '92, were designed to help teachers measure their students' progress toward achieving the value outcome and prepare students for taking the accountability test in grades 4 and 8.

Your child has an individual score sheet on file that states the performance level achieved in the areas of reading, math, science, and social studies. Contact the school if you have any a copy.

Each year at this time, school is dismissed early or cancelled due to slick and hazardous roads. You can get information regarding school closing by listening to our local radio station WRVK or any Lexington TV station. You may call, 256-WRVK, after business hours - 6 p.m. to 6 a.m. to get a recorded report of school cancellation.

The cafeteria workers were dressed in pilgrim attire as they served our students and their guests the annual Thanksgiving dinner, Wed. Nov. 25. The meal was reported by many to be the most delicious meal ever enjoyed at BES thanks to Wanda Carroll, Doris Blanton, Geraldine Anglin, Ruby Thompson, Mary Bussell, Helen Albright and Joy Tussell.

Tuesday, November 24, the 8th grade Latin class, along with their facilitator, Mrs. Bobbie Durham, was recognized on "Special School Day."

This was a presentation by satellite through KET tv-channel. Each student was introduced and participated in the assignment with their KET teacher, Kathy Scalfio. During the fifty minute presentation Kathy was wearing a BES Tiger cap and T-shirt, with the slogan "Can't Hide That Tiger Pride." Prior to this presentation, Kathy showed myth projects and read creative writings which were descriptions of the myth monsters individually designed by the students. The class and facilitator were happy to be aired on the TV program and were especially proud to be "Broadhead Tigers."

Bobbie Durham attended the Primary Writing Workshop, Dec. 1st, at Science Hill. Many interesting ideas were presented by teachers from other counties.

Mrs. Charlotte Bullock's middle school art students selected a name for their art classes. Using consensus skills, the logo and title - ART EXPLOREERS - was chosen. Element of line, free art, etc. are examples of media styles to be displayed at their first art exhibit, Thursday, Dec. 10 at the monthly PTA meeting.

The names of Kayce Tucker and Amanda Gibson were inadvertently omitted from the Honor Roll list last week. We apologize for the error.

Many students were recognized for outstanding school achievement Wed., Nov. 25 at an assembly. Mark McKinney presents students with certificates if they have been recommended by a teacher for the Principal's List. These assemblies are held every six-weeks grading period. Bicycles will be given away at the end of the third six-weeks as incentives to reward good attendance.

Mrs. Tammy Stevens and Mrs. Mary Ann Bussell would like to thank the following parents for helping with the parent volunteer program in preschool: Elizabeth Slusher (Angie), Tami Hale, (Zack), Sherry Asher (Jessica), Joy Blevins (Sasha), Carol Forsythe (Rachel), Becky Anglin (Samantha), Elaine Vann (Amanda), Tammy Johnson (Tara), Myrtle Helton (Nashua), Dawn Stallworth (Gabriel), Wayne Welch (Justin), Theresa Adams (Zachary).
