Fall celebrations underway

By: Mike French

Halloween celebrations have already started in Rockcastle

County but there is still more to come. Hallelujah Halloween was held this past weekend on Main Street in Mount Vernon and the street filled with children and adults enjoying the countless activities.

All three cities are also planning their Trick or Treat dates and events. In the City of Brodhead, Halloween at the Park will be held at the Depot Park Tuesday, October 31 from 6 to 8 p.m. where children (See "Fall" on A5)

Main Street in Mount Vernon was closed Saturday for the Hallelujah Halloween celebration sponsored by Unbridled Church. Approximately 15 local churches took part. The event marks one of many within the county to celebrate Halloween, fall festivities and the upcoming Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays. Sponsors say this weekend's event was one of the biggest yet as all ages turned out to celebrate Jesus, enjoy the live music, fun and games.

Motorist shot by someone in passing vehicle while on I-75

By: Mike French Editor

An unidentified female was shot, while driving northbound on I-75 in Rockcastle County last week, according to a press release from the Rockcastle County Sheriff's Department..

Very little information is available at press time as the Sheriff's Department and the Kentucky State Police are still investigating the incident.

However, according to the release, it is clear that the victim was driving her vehicle on I-75 northbound, at around 10:30 p.m. last Tuesday, when an unidentified person in another vehicle began firing shots towards the vehicle near the 52 mile marker in Rockcastle

County. At least one of the shots fired, entered the vehicle and struck the victim in the upper thigh. The victim then dialed 911 and first responders were notified of the shooting.

The victim then apparently pulled over and waited for first responders, who arrived on the scene moments later. Members of the sheriff's department, the state police, the Rockcastle County EMS and the Mount Vernon Fire Department and quickly determined the female had suffered a gunshot wound. The victim was then transported to Rockcastle Regional Hospital for treatment.

Once treated at the local hospital, the victim was then airlifted to the University of Kentucky Medical Center for her injuries.

Officials have contacted all area law enforcement agencies in a search for the suspected vehicle that the victim apparently described to law enforcement. It is not clear if the victim recognized the suspect vehicle or the perpetrator.

Though no description of the vehicle has been released, police are searching for the vehicle and asks that anyone with information about

I have had another enforced hiatus -- old age and one really almost lietime bad habit will do that that to you. Thank goodness I finally learned that I did not have to immediately run to the Rockcastle Hospital ER when I was short of breath, dramatically enter by wheelchair, acquired by one of my children, and breathlessly announce to all and sundry that I "can't breathe."

I have COPD and when it gets aggravated by a common cold, it's not much fun and that's what caused the most recent absence from my grueling 1 1/2 day of work weekly at the Signal.

But, our Editor Mike French's column, Aces Up, is as much, or more, than capable than I am of conveying his opinions on the actions of liberals in our present day world.

I feel at times that I am mellowing somewhat. For many, many years, my smart remark regarding Tennessee was that, be it basketball or football, the two teams I rooted for each week was Kentucky and whoever was playing Tennessee.

This past Saturday, I actually caught myself rooting for Tennessee against Alabama because, well just because they were the underdog and it's getting a little boring with Georgia or Alabama always dominating the SEC.

I particularly found the American and National League playoffs interesting this year. I finally gave up on the Reds ever making it back to the playoffs, and decided to watch this season's playoff games. I found myself rooting for the Rangers and the D Backs and the Rangers actually pulled off the win, in style, 11-4 Monday night over the Astros. It was a strange series with the Rangers winning the first two games at Houston, Houston coming back and winning the next three games at the Rangers and then the Rangers winning the last two games at Houston again to take the championship.

As for the Phillies and the D-Backs, after a slow start by Arizona, they have won the last three out of four games and the championship will be decided tonight.

I hope the D Backs win, just because...

The problems in the Middle East have been horrifying to watch, especially when our own country seems to have lost their collective minds. There are anti-Israel demonstration going on across the country that are mind-boggling, especially given the brutality and horror of the Hamas raid on Israeli citizens two weeks ago.

The raid was October 7th and began with a drone attack on music festival-goers. More than 1,400 people were slaughtered in the rampage, including at least 32 American citizens, babies were beheaded, women and teenage girls were raped, homes were burned and over 200 were taken hostage, including many Americans.

The mantra of Palestimans and their supporters has always been that their homeland was stolen to give Israel a country in 1948. I have tried

T.J.'s Journal By: Tonya J. Cook

In the Good Old Autumn
Times
Dear Journal,

Here we are, already in the midst of fall. I can't say that I'm ready for it but here it is, anyway. I remember it wasn't that long ago when my favorite time of the year was fall and I loved winter with all of the snow. After a good snow, everything looked so pretty. Now that I'm older and have my share of health issues, primarily arthritis, these seasons really play havoc with my health. I really just hate to go anywhere unless I have an appointment or something important to attend, I prefer to stay home.

In the last few days, I've been on the computer looking at my favorite fall poems. Some of them are "The Last Rose of Summer", "Come Little Leaves", "When the Frost is on the Pumpkin", and others. Who can resist a good read of "Sleepy Hollow"? Yes, I know it is not a poem but it is a. very good fiction book. If I you are a little stressed especially on a cool, rainy fall day, I can recommend making yourself a nices cup of your favorite tea or have a glass of wine and read some of these selections or find your own fa-T vorite reads. I'm having fun eating fall foods. lo guess it stems from my childhood days. These? various foods were al-2 ways on hand at this time of year. There is good older chili, candied apples, pop-b corn balls, fudge, friedo apple pies, pumpkin pies, apple cider and that falls mix of candy with thea candy corn nd pumpkins. I've had some of these sch far this fall. There are ar few yet to be enjoyed.

Among the wonderful/ fall events to be enjoyed is the World Series. It is more exciting if you have a team you can cheer on to victory. Then there is good old football-, highs school, college or theg pros. I usually watch the? Wildcats, especially sinces they are doing better than a few years ago. Stanley and I were driving through Lexington once on game day near the sta-// dium. There were several vendors. One vendor was selling T-shirts that read "Lexington, Kentucky. A Drinking Town with a Football Problem". You know, I just can't get over these people who have entity established between 1920 and 1948, in the region of Palestine, under the terms of a League of Nations Mandate for Palestine with Jerusalem as its capitol.

(Continued from A2) to research this and the best I can come up with is that Mandatory Palestine was a geopolitical

I am still researching, and trying to figure out if the Palestinians have an actual legal gripe that their country was stolen. This group, along with Iran, Syria, Lebanon and others, want to exterminate from the earth Little Satan (Israel) and Big Satan (the United States).

I am also trying to figure out if the anti-Israel demonstrations across our nation, particularly at some elite colleges, you know Harvard, Columbia and others, actually approve of October 7th's deadly incursion into Israel by Hamas, officially the Islamic Resistance Movement, founded in

If they do think it's okay that Israel was attacked by Hamas and that Hamas beheaded babies and raped women and girls and that Israel should just stand down and not retaliate, then there is something terribly wrong with our country. Maybe it's just the mass immigration of Muslims that has been allowed in recent years, mostly under Obama's tenure, but we have 8-10 members of Congress that are very outspoken against Israel and our country.

One, Rep. Rashida Talib from Michigan, is still perpetuating the lie that Israel bombed a hospital in Gaza and killed hundreds of civilians who had taken refuge there. The New York Times even ran with the lie but was forced to print a retraction Monday after it was confirmed that it was an errant rocket launched by Hamas in Gaza toward Israel that misfired and struck the hospital. There is fear that the war will widen to include other nations in the Middle East and Secretary of Defense Lloyd Austin has said that the United States expects the Israel-Hamas war to escalate through involvement by proxies of Iran. He asserted that the Biden administration is prepared to respond if American personnel or armed forces become the target...

Biden has asked Congress for millions for Israel and billions more for Ukraine and armanents have already been shipped to Israel to help them in defense of their nation.

It's a scary time. Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu once said, "If the Arab lay down their arms there would be no more war, but if Israel lays down its weapons, there would be no more Israel," which pretty much sums up the depth of hatred for Israel in the Middle East.

I, for one, miss the security of the Trump administration days when inflation was practically non-existent, gas prices were the lowest in years, we were energy independent with a full Strategic Oil Reserve (which Biden almost immediately did away with, between releasing it domestically and selling it to China) and I felt a security that has been missing for almost three years

But, I do know one thing, if Republicans don't quit in-fighting, and at least try to present a united front against the complete downfall of our country, we'll be toast if we continue on our present track.

As Kentuckians, it is our responsibility to know where each candidate stands on the issues that affect us every day. In addition, as Rockcastle Countians, it is our responsibility to let the candidates know what issues are important to our community.

A number of key issues are expected to be considered by our legislative leaders at all levels of government. Therefore, it is critically important we have elected officials in office who understand the importance of agriculture and the concerns confronting rural Kentuckians. However they are quick to comment about their season tickets and seating. If you want to see the real fans, go up to the "nose-bleed" seats in the snow and temperatures in the 20's. You'll find some fans there. They know the score, too, and can tell you about plays in the last quarter. twisted story.

The truth is, Democrats and RINOs refuse to fund America unless they get richer and all their little pet projects get approved, also. They would rather Americans starve than submit a bill that only funds America. They would prefer Social Security to stop and elderly people to die than to only fund America. Yet their story to the public, along with the help of CNN and NPR, etc., is that Greene refused to sign the bill that would fund America.

No, she refused to sign a bill that does more of what got us in this position to begin with.

They don't mention that the bill also funds a lot of wasted tax dollars that will go to their pockets and promote deviant, discriminatory, twisted social programs. They would rather provide free needles to heroin addicts than fund Social Security. But their story is, that Greene is refusing to fund America. That is how twisted they have become. That is exactly the same as if I told you "I will burn down your house unless you send a million dollars to the transgender society." Then when you refuse, I would announce to the world, "They want me to burn down their house!" It is ridiculous.

Unless some of these other so-called Republicans start to stand by Greene's values, your tax dollars will be funding things you would never support. And you will be blamed when those things blow up in their faces like the vaccine did.

Someone had better stand up to this lack of values and I am thankful that at least one Senator is doing so.

Sadie Mae (Brown) Carr

Sadie Mae (Brown) Carr went to her everlasting home on October 19, 2023. Sadie was born December 2, 1927, in Rockcastle County to Abe Harrison Brown and Susie Barker Brown. Sadie grew up in a family of 11 children. Along with her parents, siblings Margie, Edith, Verbena, Joseph, Vivian, Frank, and Jasper preceded Sadie in death. Brother Shirl and sisters Glenda and Dovie live in Kentucky and Sadie especially enjoyed any time she spent with them along with sister-in-laws

Fayrene (Jasper's wife) and Norma (Joseph's wife)
Sadie loved and was devoted to her family. Sadie was married to Stuart Edward Carr (Eddie) for 48 years prior to his death in 2000. Eddie and Sadie have three children, Karen Sue Stamper (Joe), Sharon Moore (Ed), and Curtis Carr (Amanda). They have seven grandchildren, Joey Stamper (Sara), Jenny Back (Mike), Lindsay Tippins (Paul), Phillip Moore, Caitlin Carr, Baxter Carr, and Harrison Carr, as well as six great grandchildren, Owen and Maggie Stamper, Lilly Back, along with Ahna, Jacob and Aubrey Tippins.

Sadie spoke fondly of her life growing up on a farm, including stories of milking cows starting at age 6, working in the tobacco fields and chopping wood when she got home from school. Sadie was known for her incredible cooking, which includes her famous chicken and dumplings and banana pudding - everything she cooked was delicious!

numerous factories and said she was told she could return to any job she ever left. Her work ethic continued at home. She worked and raised the children while also tending a garden. Sadie and Eddie loved gardening and she "put up" (canning and freezing) everything she could. Sadie shared the following statement with anyone she could: "Work won't hurt you. It might hurt your feelings, but it won't hurt you

Sadie's faith and her relationship with God were most important to her. Her favorite place to be was church. She was raised in the Church of Christ and spent the last 51 years of her life worshipping at the Newton Church of Christ. She and we (the family) are thankful for the brothers and sisters who supported her throughout the years.

To celebrate Sadie's life, her funeral service will be held at 12 p.m. Saturday, October 28, 2023 at Marvin E. Owens Home for Funerals. Visitation will be from 10 a.m. until 11:45 a.m. prior to the service. Burial will follow in Mt. Zion Church of Christ Cemetery.

doudnorder anyway," he said, "So by the time they started to locate here, the gas would be here and be ready to use. As far as new industry is concerned, we may as well say 'yes, we offer natural gas."

RCIDA Chairman Corey Craig said earlier this year that the natural gas pipeline is one of the largest obstacles that has kept the county from growing. "We have so much to offer," he said. "But all these years, we had to tell people that we did not have that service. We were out of the running before we could even tell them all the other great things we had to offer. But now that obstacle will be gone."

VanHook and Craig agree that having the service provides Rockcastle with a much better offer to any new industry that may consider locating in Rockcastle County.

"Now is when things start to change here," said VanHook. "As long as we all continue to work together and stay on the same page, we have as much to offer now as almost any other potential location. We have most anything large industry could want now."

portunity, according to VanHook. "Not only are we not losing any jobs, but we have a building coming available where we can locate another industry and add even more jobs," he said. "This is a win for everyone."

As with most changes, some rumors had circulated about the change but VanHook said there will be no change in the number of jobs in Rockcastle County during the move and many new jobs can now be added when the current building is vacated and a new business locates in that space.

VanHook said he and others are currently negotiating with several potential prospects for this and other locations and he expects some news soon. "We can't really release any details just yet about the people we are working with, but as soon as we know something for certain, we will let everyone know immediately," he said.

Exela owners had been paying $12,000 per month in rent to the county but VanHook says he expects a new company to fill that void soon. "This kind of property is very desirable right now," he said. "I don't think it will be unused for very long."

Bowman had drafted the ordinance, using similar ordinances from other cities as a guide, to give the city authority to force property owners to repair, upgrade, put into use or destroy abandoned, dilapidated structures that could cause a hazard or create a dangerous environment in the community.

During the first reading of the original ordinance, City Council member Shelley Raines Lewis noticed some wording in the proposed ordinance that did not match Mount Vernon's current situation and she had asked that wording be changed. The council agreed and the ordinance was tabled until such changes could be made.

However, while waiting to present the ordinance for its second reading, City Attorney Bobby Amburgey noticed that the proposed tax rate listed as a punishment for not properly responding to the city request to repair the buildings, was more than allowed by law. "Bobby called me and told me we can't impose a $3 per $100 tax rate," Bowman said. "So we changed it to 75 cents per $100 of assessed value." The ordinance now imposes a 75-cent per $100 of assessed value on all abandoned urban properties.

Properties that qualify as an abandoned urban property include "any vacant structure or unimproved lot or parcel that has been vacant or unimproved for one year."

The ordinance still includes the Eminent Domain clause, giving the city authority to take such property if it is determined to be deteriorated to such an extent as to "constitute a serious and growing menace to the public health, safety and welfare." The City of Mount Vernon would then become the owners of the property and could sell it, destroy it or use it for any purpose the city finds beneficial to the City of Mount Vernon.

According to Eminent Domain laws in Kentucky, "public use outweighs private property rights," in such proceedings. However, the city would have to pay the owner fair market value (less expenses) for the property, according to Bowman. However the owner, does not have the right to refuse the offer.

The amended ordinance passed unanimously and is now in ef-

The council also held a detailed conversation, sparked by Lewis, concerning the traffic difficulties each day at Mount Vernon Elementary School. The issue has been brought up more than once in the monthly meetings.

Lewis explained some of the difficulties and dangers caused by the heavy traffic, that gathers sometimes two hours prior to the end of the school day. "I believe that is a very dangerous area for first responders, for motorists and for students alike every day," said Lewis. "Something has to be done about the traffic back up every day. I read that they are addressing the high school traffic problem but I don't know if they are addressing the elementary school problem."

Other council members agreed the situation may be dangerous. There was discussion of having city police ticket anyone who lines up early to pick up their children. Discussion evolved into giving one warning and then giving tickets as well as other options that may solve the issue.

After discussion, Mayor Tim Robert and Lewis agreed the city should meet with school officials to work out some "drastic change" to the current system at the elementary school.

Bowman also told the council that Rockcastle County is now listed among other counties in House Bill 9, signed by Governor Beshear this year. The bill addresses an "act relating to economic relief for local communities of the Commonwealth and making an appropriation therefore." The bill will create new sections of KRS Chapter 147 dealing with government resources. "I don't know what the mayor did to get Rockcastle included in that bill," said Bowman. "We weren't in it before, but we are now." The complex bill will be addressed in more detail later by the State House, according to officials.

In other action Mayor Roberts had asked Bowman to provide a monthly

City Administrator's Report at each future council meeting. Bowman provided a very informative and detailed report of events and projects within each department of the city keeping all council members up-to-date on countless endeavors, plans and operations.

The October report listed details of the Bittersweet Festival, Water and Sewer Department, Public Works, City Hall, Lake Linville and park updates, as well as listed projects and challenges faced by the city.

The council also addressed a proposed 60bed, 28-day rehabilitation facility that is rumored to be planning to locate in Mount Vernon soon. Council members expressed some concerns about the issue but Rockcastle County Industrial Development Authority Executive Director Jeff VanHook said he has not been contacted by any such facility. Judge/ Executive Howell Holbrook, Jr., said he understands that property has been purchased for the proposed new facility, but the fiscal court is not involved. "That is a business ventrure that has nothing to do with the fiscal court and we are not involved in any way," he said.

Bowman said he and the mayor are currently contacting other cities that have similar facilities to prepare for the arrival of the new center. "We are hoping to learn from other cities what to watch for and how to prepare for such a facility," Bowman said. "We can learn from their mistakes and avoid making the same mistakes in our community."

Director of Facilities Management Frank Baker, said his crews are still moving forward with the Cove Branch water project to provide city water to a few more homes outside the city limits.

The council also heard department reports. The Mount Vernon Police Department reported 526 calls for service in September and the Mount Vernon Fire Department reported 60 runs using 5,350 gallons of water. The mayor read the All American Club report showing 12 bags of trash picked up.

There was no discussion of the planned water basin project that was recently let out for bids. The low bid was about $2 million over budget and officials say they are currently looking for methods to fund the project.

Having no further business, the meeting was adjourned.

The next regular meeting is scheduled for Thursday, November 16 at 6 p.m. in City Hall. The public is invited to attend.

Rockets capture district championship

A record-setting individual performance from Tucker Warren and a stifling defense propelled the Rockcastle County Rockets to a dominating 52-14 victory over the Knox Class 3A District 7 regular-season championship.

Warren led both teams yards by a quarterback. The 302 yards were on 25 carries with many on designed pass plays that he was able to turn into big gains with his feet by eluding numerous tackles along the way.

"Tucker is a very special player," stated Rockcastle head coach emy at Brentwood Acad-Chris Larkey of his senior quarterback. "Again, it all goes to how much he studies film and practices. Knox definitely was going to try to take away the pass and it left open the running lanes. It just goes to show the different ways that our offense can work. The kids did a great job of blocking downfield and doing whatever it took to win. He probably ran for 500 yards as much as he ran sideways and back across the field. It was quite a show from the sideline. We always have the philosophy that the best players have to play it all in every situation. Tucker has gotten in great shape, and I know he would be the first to credit the players around him for the success so far. The hardest thing to prepare for is a quarterback that can run and throw." The Rockets (8-1, 4-0 in district) got on the scoreboard first just 1:10 into the game by turning poor field position inside their own 20-yard line after the opening kickoff into a touchdown just five plays later when Warren snuck it in from the 1-yard line for a 7-0 lead.

After both teams exchanged fumbles, Knox Central (5-4, 2-2) had their atypical methodically long possession that would culminate in a touchdown and 2-point conversion for the Panthers' only lead of the night at 8-7 later in the first quarter.

Warren gave the Rockets the lead back for good when he plunged his way to paydirt from 12-yards out early in the second quarter for the second of his three rushing touchdowns on the night.

The Rockets would ex-Central Panthers and a tend their lead on the next series when junior kicker Benjamin Brenda successfully booted a 37-yard with 302 yards on the field goal to make the ground, which is a score 17-8 and seemingly Rockcastle County single- energized his teammates game record for rushing knowing they had a twoscore lead at that point.

"Brenda is doing a great job and being able to go kick that field goal allowed us to be up two scores, which is huge," added Coach Larkey about his kicker, who also attended the James Wilhoit Kicking Academy in Nashville, Tenn., this weekend. "It kept and gave us the momentum. The work he puts in is incredible. He works hard and when he gets called on, he produces. Being 7for-7 on extra points and getting every point matters. I'm very proud of that

Despite having a 17-8 lead, many fans of the Rockets were concerned with how the team would be able to finish the game with having players already dinged up with nagging injuries then finding out that Christian Larkey would be out for the rest of the game with a foot injury midway through the first quarter.

"We had a bunch of kids have to step up," Coach Larkey mentioned. "Our kids are playing so hard and through the injuries they have, which is what makes us so proud that they are getting tougher and showing how much winning for our county means to them. They don't want to let the fans down. We have to keep getting kids to step up and play with a desire to be the best."

The players definitely did not let the fans down as they kept battling especially on defense, where they came into the game set to face the secondhighest average rusher in the state in Knox Central's Steve Partin, who is committed to Yale University.

Partin would be held in check by the Rockets defensive unit, who limited the talented running back to over 150 yards less than he averaged for the season to that point.

Defensive players such as Hunter Pingleton, Carter Powell, Jaydon Bowles, Heath Barnes and Colin Hamilton helped shut down a vaunted rushing attack from the Panthers.

Pingleton once again led the defense with 16 total tackles to up his season total to 88, which is 43 more than the second-best tally. Powell and Bowles added 10 tackles each with tacking on two tackles for loss and a forced fumble.

Barnes chipped in seven tackles, a fumble recovery and a forced fumble while Hamilton added six tackles and a forced fumble.

'Man, those kids played so well on defense, and to hold one of the state's best players to basically nothing is amazing," Coach Larkey emphasized. "Those kids laid it all on the line and played so well. They did exactly what they were supposed to do, and it shows that when you do your job and rely on your teammate to do his and trust in them, then they can beat anyone. The biggest obstacle to coaching kids in 2023 is not having them worry about individual performances and stats. These defensive kids go do a job that never gets noticed and lets others get stats because they are so busy setting the stage for others to make the plays. The unselfishness is what makes our team so good."

The unselfish nature of play on both sides of the ball helped the Rockets extend their lead to 24-8 at the half when Warren connected with Isaiah Jackson for a 5-yard touchdown completion with just 0:11.1 before the end of the second quarter.

After an Anthony Goodin touchdown run early in the third quarter. Jackson was then called upon to be more of a running back than receiver and his efforts paid off late in the quarter when he powered his way in from 13-yards out to extend the lead out to 38-8.

"Isaiah is finding out how a running back also lives and it's a totally different animal running the ball as opposed to going and catching passes, mentioned Coach Larkey of his sophomore all-purpose back in Jackson, who spend Saturday afternoon in Oxford, Ohio, on an unofficial visit to Miami University (OH). "We really need him to keep improving and upping his game. I'm glad some schools are noticing him. It helps our school get more recognition and spotlight other kids too. He puts a lot of work in and plays so hard. I'm glad he is getting some publicity." a tria regula chiois

The Panthers would end the scoring streak for Rockcastle early in the fourth quarter with their first touchdown since the first quarter, but it was too little, too late as the Rockets were already comfortably ahead and added two more touchdowns by Warren and Goodin for the final margin of 52-14.

The 52 points scored was the fifth time this season that the Rockets had scored more than 50 points in a game and upped the points per game average to 50.75, which is tops in the state regardless of classification just ahead of Boyle County's 50.33 per game. All a land a land

"I thought our kids played fast, physical and with a purpose," Coach Larkey summarized his team's effort. "We had a great game plan on both sides of the ball. We as coaches never saw the outcome being like that. Knox has a good team and for our kids to do what they did is amazing. When looking at Knox on film and in person, it's a story of David versus Goliath. I was amazed at how many more fans we had than Knox and the support for the kids is overwhelming. The kids love it. The kids worked so hard and to finish 1st in the district proves how hard they have worked."

Warren finished the game just 6-for-10 through the air for 61 yards and one touchdown. but the damage was done on the ground with his scrambling ability that netted him 302 yards on 25 carries and three touchdowns.

Goodin contributed some big rushes on his way to 65 yards on 11 carries and two touchdowns while Larkey added 51 yards on three carries in limited action to go along with Caleb Moore's eights yards on two carries and Powell's one yard on one

Goodin and Cameron Smith caught one pass each for 11 and 13 yards, respectively.

Other defensive stats included Warren and Goodin both earning five tackles and a fumble recovery each, Larkey and Jayce Bowles with three tackles apiece while Jackson and Connor Wright had two tackles each. Moore and Creed Gabbard earned one tackle each with Gabbard's counting for both a tackle for loss and a quarterback sack.

Jayce Bowles and Larkey were also credited with a forced fumble each.

Next up for the Rockets is the regular-season finale against Casey County before the playoffs start next week at home against Estill County.

The matchup this week will be Senior Night for nine seniors including Jayce Bowles, Anthony Goodin, Dallas Howard, Christian Larkey, Josaiyah McClure, Caleb Moore, Pacey Simpson, Jacob Snyder and Tucker Warren that have helped return Rocket football to what the fans know and love.

It will be an emotional night for those young men and their families and even moreso for Coach Larkey, who will see not only nine total players play their final regular-

Storm recognized as MVP for Kentucky businesses

Sen. Brandon Storm, R-London, has been named as the 2023 recipient of the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce's MVP award for his commitment to ensuring Kentucky's economic growth, creating and retaining jobs, strengthening businesses and improving competitiveness throughout the state

"This recognition really means a lot to me because I serve as a voice in the legislature for a growing region of our state and I truly enjoy working with our local chambers of commerce and of course the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce," Storm said. "It's an honor to be recognized, but even more so to be able to advocate alongside my friends and colleagues in the business community of critical issues like fighting to reduce working Kentuckians' income taxes, safe and effective addiction recovery, common sense justice legislation, combatting workforce challenges and so much more."

According to the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce, this year's MVP recipients showed strong leadership for the business community by sponsoring or carrying Kentucky Chamber priority legislation to final passage, showing leadership on the passage of critical legislation to improve Kentucky, or by taking hard votes in defense of business.

Notably, Storm supported the business community's position against legislation that would have significantly increased costs and he also supported Kentucky's signature industries.

* Storm is one of only 14 recipients of the 2023 award.

"The business community greatly appreciates Sen. Storm's support and leadership this past session," said Katie Shanks, senior vice president of public affairs for the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce.

"He stood with businesses against costly legislation that would have created new, complicated requirements. He also showed leadership as vice chair of the Senate Transportation Committee, and voted for legislation critical to Kentucky's signature equine industry. We look forward to working with Sen. Storm in the upcoming session to continue efforts to make Kentucky the best place to do business."

Annual 'Antler Alert' from Kentucky Transportation Cabinet

Half of all collisions involving deer occur in October through December

Somerset, Ky.The annual "Antler Alert" issued by the Kentucky Transportation Cabinet (KYTC) reminds motorists that the peak season for deer-vehicle collisions is upon us. About half of all deer-related crashes occur during the last three months of the year, with November having the most.

"As our traffic engineers review data for crash trends across the Commonwealth, the increase in deer-vehicle collisions in October, November, and December is noticeable, with a peak in November," KYTC Secretary Jim Gray said. "Thats why we take time each year to remind drivers to use extra caution now through December as deer and other wildlife are on the move. While deer can show up at all hours, they create a particular hazard at dusk and at night when visibility is not the greatest.

According to Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources Acting Deer Program Coordinator Joe McDermott, deer mating season is triggered by shorter days and cooler nights, putting deer on the move. Farmers harvesting crops contribute to this movement as deer are forced to range farther afield for forage and hiding places. Pressure from hunters also contributes to deer activity.

With the onset of fall comes the breeding season, or rut, for white-tailed deer, McDermott said. As the rut approaches, bucks begin chasing does in an attempt to breed. Deer essentially have blinders on during this time, which makes them particularly susceptible to motor vehicle collisions.

In addition to causing vehicle damage, deer can be hazardous to humans. Deer are among the leading causes of animal-related human deaths in the United States, contributing to about 200 deaths on Americas highways every year.

In Kentucky, 3,083
highway crashes involving deer were reported to police in 2022, up about 100 from the 2021 numbers. There were four reported fatalities and 20 serious injuries

due to deer collisions in

Of the 10 counties in KYTC District 8. Pulaski County had the highest number of deer related collisions with 84. Cumberland County was second with 18, followed by Adair with 16, Russell with 14, Wayne with 13, Rockcastle with 10, Casey and Clinton both had nine, Lincoln with six, and McCreary with two. Counties with the highest numbers statewide tend to have higher populations, higher traffic volume numbers, and more 4lane road miles. Tracking deer crash numbers is difficult due to the go directly to their insurance agent with deer crash claims without reporting them to the police.

A complete list of deer-vehicle crashes listed county-by-county can be found under additional resources below.

State Farm Mutual Automobile Insurance Co. reviews insurance claims to produce a closely followed annual report on wildlife-related crashes. Its 2022-2023 numbers indicate Kentucky ranks 18thnationally for deer collisions, with drivers having a 1 in 91 chance of hitting a deer. That compares with No. 1 ranked West Virginia, where drivers have a 1 in 38 chance.

Rounding out the top five states: Montana (1 in 53 chance of a crash), Pennsylvania (1 in 59), and Michigan and Wisconsin (both 1 in 60).

State Farm estimates there were over 1.8 million animal collision insurance claims in the United States last year.

KYTC offers these driving tips:

•Slow down immediately upon spotting a deer crossing the roadway; they tend to travel in groups.

•Dont swerve to avoid a deer, which can result in a more serious crash with an oncoming vehicle or roadside object.

•In the event of a crash, keep both hands on the wheel and apply brakes steadily until stopped.

•Always wear a seat

•Keep headlights on bright at night unless other vehicles are approaching.

•Eliminate distractions while driving:

Phones down!

•Drive defensively, constantly scanning the roadside, especially at dawn and dusk, when deer are most active.

Motorists are asked to report all deer-vehicle collisions to police.

KYTC traffic engineers use the crash data to aid in placing deer-crossing warning signs and other safety measures.

season home game but also his oldest son Christian being included in those nine.

"It will be a sad night for the seniors and their families," Coach Larkey added. "Being around something for so many years and it's taken away from you because your time runs out...the kids will never realize any of this until after their last game. No matter how many times we say it, it will never be realized until it's lived. As for me, it will be one of the saddest days of my life. Christian and I have been doing this together since he was in the second grade and he has devoted his whole life to football. It's something that I dread."

As for the Reicls, they come into the matchup with a 5-4 record overall and a third-place finish in Class 3A District 4. Casey County is coming off a 41-32 record and and will be seeking revenge after the Rockets won last year's meeting 35-24 for Coach Larkey's first win at the helm of the Rockets.

"Casey County has a really good football team and will be a very tough game for us after playing such an emotional game Friday and winning the district title," Coach Larkey said about the upcoming game that is slated to kickoff at 7:30 p.m. "They are very well coached and have a very good senior class of kids. They are not going to come here and lay down for us. We have to play hard to have a chance to win especially with so many kids banged up right now. The main thing is to get healthy for the playoffs."

Middle School Roundup

Two Rockcastle County youth/middle school teams advanced to their respective regional finals in the Kentucky Middle School Football Association's state playoffs this past week as the 8th Grade team trounced Georgetown Middle School 42-14 at home on Thursday while the 6th Grade team pulled the upset over Clark Moores Middle 6-0 on Saturday.

The 8th Grade team was led by outstanding performances by Jacob Camel, Brayden Thacker and Camden Larkey while the 6th Grade team saw Eli Graves score the game's lone touchdown and Logan Rogers blocked a punt and recovered the ball.

The 7th Grade team saw its season come to an end with a hard-fought 26-14 loss at Woodford County.

Gage Childress was named to the KYMSFA 2023 Regional Player of the Year Honorable Mention Team for the 7th Grade Division while Camel, Thacker, Jamie Howard and Jasper Rogers were added to that list for the 8th Grade Division 2 team. Those five young men will now be eligible for their respective division's regional player of the year awards.

Livingston Chili Cook-off called day of great fun

By: Mike French

The Second Annual Livingston Chili Cookoff last week was once again a success, according to all those who took part in the competition and the chili-tasting.

The event was once again held in the Livingston Depot Buildcity commissioners, brought a pot of their own, homecooked chili. Those present then sampled each chili and chose the winning pot. This year's winner was City Commissioner Sandi Singleton.

The Livingston resident self.

could not donate what some called the top prize, which was "bragging rights," but monetary prizes were donated back to the City of Livingston to help with the Christmas events planned. "The prize will join the other donations to aid in sponsoring our planned Christmas events and ing as local residents, in- contests for our citizens cluding the mayor and and our little ones to enjoy," said Mayor Larry Davidson.

Plenty of chili served all those present for the event and a relaxed fellowship among the guests and the cooks seemed to provide as much entertainment as the contest it-

Senator announces funding to begin Rockcastle projects

As lawmakers continue preparing for the 2024 Legislative Session, which will include enacting a new two-year state road plan, Senate Transportation Committee Vice Chairman Brandon Storm, R-London, shared an update on the progress from the 2022-24 twoyear state road plan.

The press release included funds set aside for Rockcastle and Laurel Counties.

In Rockcastle, funds have been authorized for the design phase of a project addressing safety, mobility and congestion along US-25 (Richmond Street) from the US-25/ 461 intersection to I-75. This fund authorization means the Kentucky Transportation Cabinet is working on proposed improvements. Once the design is complete, the project will be ready to begin the right-of-way acquisition needed for further project efforts.

"I will advocate for additional funding to support this project in the upcoming biennial road plan," Storm said. "These first two steps are essential in reaching the construction phase and I am committed to seeing the project through."

Storm said he is proud to be a part of the development. "From the flow of commerce to our children getting from home to school, transportation is one of the most critical responsibilities lawmakers have in Frankfort," he said. "It is a blessing to serve as vice chair of the committee that takes the lead on crafting the state road plan."

Volunteers of America Town Hall Meeting planned November 2

The Volunteers of America Organization, serving Kentucky, Tennessee, West Virginia and part of Indiana, are holding a Town Hall Meeting hosted by Senator Brandon Storm at the Rockcastle County Middle School Cafeteria on Thursday, November 2 from 6 to 7:30 p.m.

The organization helps those who care to learn how to volunteer support the community's most vulnerable, according to the press release.

Rockcastle

County residents are invited to attend the meeting to discuss services and how everyone can work together to support the community's vulnerable population.

The event is expected to provide information concerning the Volunteers of America organization, as well as how anyone can play a role in supporting and helping those considered the most vul-

Regional Park about to be finalized as officials expect new $801,000 grant today

By: Mike French Editor

Rockcastle County Judge/Executive Howell Holbrook, Jr., called a special meeting of the Fiscal Court Monday to finalize an agreement by the court that will allow Holbrook and RCIDA (Rockcastle County Industrial Development Authority) Executive Director Jeff VanHook, to sign all documents related to the approval of their 1/ 3 share of $801,000, to obtain the 50/50 matching KPDI (Kentucky Product Development Initiative) grant.

The grant provides half of the $1.6 million for the purchase of the property that will be the new Regional Industrial Rockcaslte, Garrard and Lincoln counties will split the remaining $801,000.

Officials said at the meeting that they will be attending an event in Covington on Thursday that is expected to include approval of the matching grant from the Kentucky Cabinet of Economic Development to Rockcastle County for the final purchase of the property, creating the new Regional Industrial Development Park on US-150 and US-

The 160-acre park is brainchild of VanHook and the RCIDA board, through a partnership with the fiscal court, who sought and received the cooperation of the Lincoln and Garrard County fiscal courts as partners in the park. The cost of the project totals $1,602,000 but through the matching grant, each county will spend $267,000 of their own funds for the project.

The new regional park expected acommodate potential industry that will affect all three counties, as well as the Commonwealth of Kentucky, according to VanHook. "This regional park is transformational for Rockcastle County and will almost certainly create an environment that will have lasting and noticeable effects on the entire state of Kentucky."

VanHook said the regional park, that will now include natural gas (see related story,) is the result of "thinking outside the box. By working together and getting everyone with a similar vision for our region and pooling our resources, we can offer an environment that has everything any site selector could ask for," he said. We have done all we can do and have created the prime situation for anyone looking to build or expand large industry with all the ingredients for success. And it is all right here in Rockcastle County."

The existing Industrial Park near Mount Vernon may not be what many large companies would look for, according to VanHook. "Large developers anymore need much more space than is available at our industrial park. We have it available for smaller businesses looking for a few acres. But for the really big companies, we now have 160-plus acres ready and waiting."

VanHook said he is continually addressing RFIs (Request for Information) from large industry looking at potential sites to locate their planned expansion. "The RFIs we are getting are amazing. Some have well over 100 questions about what we have to offer. Fortunately, thanks to the vision and willingness to plan for the future, we can give very strong answers to all their questions now," he said. "This is a big deal for our county and our region. We are about to start getting national attention focused on Rockcastle County"

Magistrates asked some questions about the new regional park, including when VanHook expects to begin improving the property. "We can start doing some things but I believe the property will sell and be ready to go before we could get much done," he said. "Then the purchaser would be responsible for the industry-specific upgrades and improvements."

Once the park is finalized and ready for a new company to locate in Rockcastle County, VanHook said a Park Board will be set up, made up of members of each county, to oversee the development and any revenues the project generates.

VanHook said there will be major announcements made "sooner than later" concerning who and what may locate in the new regional park. "Right now we are set up in the best possible situation," he said. "Big things are coming very soon and it is all because everyone has worked together, from the landowners willing to work with us, to the RCIDA and the fiscal court, the judges in Lincoln and Garrard, the engineers, the site selectors, Frankfort officials and on and on. A team made this possible and the entire team and the residents of each county will benefit from it."

The special meeting was called partly due to a meeting today, according to Holbrook. "These papers have to be signed so that we get on the agenda for grant approval Thursday," he said.

Officials expect the $801,000 grant to be approved at this meeting now that the papers are in place, according to Holbrook and VanHook.

The court agreed unanimously to give such authority to Holbrook and VanHook.

County considering new heating/ cooling system at courthouse

Not all Magistrates on board

By: Mike French Editor

During last week's regular monthly meeting of the Rockcastle County Fiscal Court, Judge/Executive Howell Holbrook Jr., presented the court with rough estimates from CMTA Engineering and consulting, concerning replacing the existing heating and cooling system in the courthouse, annex and detention center."

Holbrook brought the issue up months ago while the court was discussing how to spend the $3 million in ARPA (American Rescue Plan Act) funds awarded to Rockcastle County. The court had previously agreed to place $1 million in the jail fund for operational purposes rather than draw from the general fund each month to support the Rockcastle County Detention Center. The $1 million is expected to provide needed support to operate the jail throughout the fiscal year. The remaining $2 million and change, can be used only on a restricted basis for other projects. However, officials discovered repairing the courthouse HVAC system is among the accepted uses, Holbrook said, and added that he is considering recommending replacing the system with the ARPA funds. The CMTA projected estimates for a freon system is $1,900,000 and for a geothermal system is $2,800,000. However, this is "little more than a guesstimate," said Holbrook. To obtain an actual bid, the court would have to agree to contract with CMTA to prepare bids for the project.

The rough estimates come after a detailed investigation into the current HAVC system and a 30-page report concerning details about the system's deficiencies. "We would not be required to accept any bids when they come," said Holbrook. "But we have to contract with CMTA to prepare the bid documents so that we know the actual cost to replace the existing system."

Exactly how much CMTA would charge to prepare the bid documents so that the court can know an exact cost, Holbrook was not sure at meeting time. "I will find out what they would charge to prepare the documents and then get back with you all at the next meeting. This is all just to get a price," he said. "But we still will not be required to accept any bids once submitted eyen if we do hire CMTA."

Magistrate Mike McGuire asked why the project is being considered. "What is wrong have?" he asked.

Holbrook explained that the current HVAC (Heating, Venting and Air Conditioning) system is old. "The system we have is over 60 years old," he said. "The system is so old that we can't get parts for some portions of it and the wrapping around the piping is coming apart. The whole system is starting to deteriorate."

McGuire said the following day that he is not certain he will support such a motion if it is presented. "I felt pretty comfortable in the meeting room myself," he said. "If it works, why fix it? Wrapping some pipe and repairing a couple of things has to be less than $2 million. I know a lot of old, antique stuff that works a lot better than these new, fancy systems. It seems to me our old system is working good."

McGuire said he does not have other projects in mind but would like to consider other options. "You can do a lot of good for the citizens of the county with $2 million," he said.

Holbrook said CMTA

had pointed out several areas of deficiency and provided photos to demonstrate the need for a new system. The rough estimates also include new LED lighting throughout the courthouse, annex and Detention Center along with cost saving estimates and tax credit opportunities.

Holbrook said CMTA had recently completed the replacement of an HVAC system at another courthouse in a nearby county and suggested he and some or all of the magistrates should visit that project to get a better idea of the work involved and how the new system operates. He also said he understood CMTA officials to say a new system could go back into the same mechanical area as the existing system.

The court is expected to decide whether to pursue the issue at the next fiscal court meeting.

The City of Mount Vernon was also awarded ARPA funds totaling about $239,000 but is not yet certain how they will use those funds, according to City Administrator Jim Bowman.

Bowman said initially the city had planned to use the funds to demolish the old water tower but since the bid for the new water basin was about $2 million more than the city had raised in grants and other funding, Bowman says the money may be used to help with that shortfall.

Both the fiscal court and the city received the funds over a year ago but were unable to spend the funds until guidelines were released concerning allowable projects.

Pop-Up license day coming

Circuit Court Clerk Eliza York-Hansel has partnered with Rockcastle County Judge/Executive Howell Holbrook, Jr., and the Kentucky Department of Transportation in scheduling another POP-UP for Rockcastle in the month of December so that Rockcastle citizens will be able to obtain a driver's license without having to travel to a regional office.

Monetary donations needed

Kenna's Kitchen in 23rd year

Mount Vernon's largest community Thanksgiving outreach endeavor, celebrates its 23rd year this upcoming Thanksgiving holiday. The annual event, hosted by Mt. Vernon Elementary School staff and students, served over 1700 meals last year to members of our community that may not otherwise have a Thanksgiving meal.

Kenna's Kitchen has more than doubled the number of people served through its outreach, and the staff and students at MVES are asking the community for help in providing this great service. Each year, students Kenna's Kitchen, at Mt. Vernon Elementary School donate the vegetable sides that are prepared. However, the donations that students and staff have given have not been enough to make the number of meals being requested and additional funding has been needed to meet the need. The Rockcastle County High School FCCLA has also helped, making all of the desserts for the meals.

Monetary donations from businesses, churches and individuals to help meet the cost of providing a Thanksgiving meal to those who may otherwise not have one can be mailed to Mt. Vernon Elementary School, C/O Regina Hull-Brown, PO Box 1530, Mt. Vernon, KY 40456. For more information on what the monetary donations are used for or if you wish to help on Tuesday, November 21st, you may contact Regina Hull-

Brown at MVES between 8:00 am and 3 pm, at 256-5173 or 606-392-1876. Please consider donating to this very worthy cause by November 3rd, as MVES strives to help someone have a Thanksgiving meal.

Making Farm Reconstitutions

When changes in farm ownership or operation take place, a farm reconstitution is necessary. The reconstitution - or recon - is the process of combining or dividing farms or tracts of land based on the farming operation.

To be effective for the current fiscal year, farm combinations and farm divisions must be requested by August 1 of the fiscal year for farms subject to the Agriculture Risk Coverage (ARC) and Price Loss Coverage (PLC) program. A reconstitution is considered to be requested when all of the required signatures are on FSA-155 and all other applicable documentation, such as proof of ownership, is submitted.

Total Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) and non-ARC/PLC farms may be reconstituted at any time. 12.66

The following are the different methods used when doing a farm recon:

Estate Method — the division of bases, allotments and quotas for a parent farm among heirs in settling an estate

Designation of Landowner Method - may be used when (1) part of a farm is sold or ownership is transferred; (2) an entire farm is sold to two or more persons; (3) farm ownership is transferred to two or more persons; (4) part of a tract is sold or ownership is transferred; (5) a tract is sold Agricultural News

By: Warden Alexander, FSA Director to two or more persons; or (6) tract ownership is transferred to two or more persons. In order to use this method, the land sold must have been owned for at least three years, or a waiver granted, and the buyer and seller must sign a Memorandum of Understanding

DCP Cropland Method - the division of bases in the same proportion that the DCP cropland for each resulting tract relates to the DCP cropland on the parent tract

Default Method — the division of bases for a parent farm with each tract maintaining the bases attributed to the tract level when the reconstitution is initiated in the system.

For questions on your farm reconstitution, contact your Rockcastle County USDA Service Center at 606-256-2525. Committee Meeting

Come to Me and I Will Give You Rest

Have you had restless nights and wish that you could just have one night of a peaceful nights rest? We can receive so much comfort from the words written in Matthew 11:28-29, Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. 29 Take my yoke upon you, and learn of me; for I am meek and lowly in heart: and ye shall find rest unto your souls. Such an invitation from the Son of God, THE MESSIAH, should certainly capture our attention. One whose word is TRUE and One whose intent is PURE. This invitation can also compel us to make a choice. We can reject it, but where will we go for blessings? We can accept it and receive the promised rest. Jesus is specific in His invitation. His call is for those who labor and under a heavy load. Jesus' invitation is for all who seek him. There is a rest that we can read about in Hebrews 4:9-11, There remaineth therefore a rest to the people of God. 10 For he that is entered into his rest, he also hath ceased from his own works, as God did from his. 11 Let us labour therefore to enter into that rest, lest any man fall after the same example of unbelief. Give God your burdens of sin and seek Him and you can find that everlasting eternal rest. If I can assist you in any way, please contact me.

Today's article might seem a little strange, but one that is true and from the Holy Bible.

(Gen.1:1) Out of nothing God created the world. This is the only way to account for creatiion. We have to begin with a self-existent Being who created something out of nothing. The evolutionist has to start with something. Ask him where that something came from. Man can rearrange, redesign, but he cannot create.

(1Tim.6:7) For we brought nothing into this world, and it is certian we will carry nothing out. (17im.6:6) But godliness with contentment is great gain. Since man can carry nothing out of this world, then the purpose of his stay is not a quest for the material. The purpose of our stay is spiritual. (Eccl. 12:13) Fear God, and keep His commandments: for this is the whole duty of man. If you lose sight of this, you will come up with nothing when you die, because the material cannot be taken with you. (Matt.6:19,20)

(Jon. 15:5) I am the vine, ye are the branches: He that abideth in me, and I in him, the same bringeth forth much fruit: for without me ye can do nothing.

Christ is the Saviou r. (Matt. 1:21) He is the way. (Jon. 14:6) The gospel is the power to save. (Rom.1:16)

Belief + baptism = salvation. (Mk.16:16) Just like 1+1=2. But 1 minus 1= nothing. Therefore, belief minus baptism equal's nothing.

Repentance plus baptism equals remission of sins, (Acts 2:38) Just like 1+1=2. But 1 minus 1= nothing. Therefore, repentance minus baptism equal's nothing.

The apostic Paul had believed and repented, but it still equaled nothing. (Acts 22:16)

As having nothing and yet possessing all things. (2Cor.6:10) "Having nothing". Destitute. No physical blessings. "Having all things". "Think". "How much the Christian possesses"!

Conclusion

If we lose our souls, we have gained nothing in this life.

Pastor Appreciation

The congregation of Scaffold Cane Baptist Church would like to thank our pastor Bro. James Hardin and his wife Patti Hardin for all they do for our church and community. You are truly servants after God's own heart. We love you and thank God for you.

Pastor Appreciation

We at McNew Chapel Baptist Church would like to say we appreciate our pastor John Vanwinkle ...Thanks for preaching God's word and reflecting Jesus. We are blessed to have you, we love you...

Pastor Appreciation

Fairview Baptist Church would like to say how much we appreciate Bro. Jeff Buchanan for his service and dedication to the Lord's work and for all he does for our chuch. God has truly blessed us to have Bro. Jeff, his wife Stacy and their daughter Lydia as part of our church.

Pastor Appreciation

Calloway Baptist Church would like to recognize and show appreciation for our Pastor Jason Medley and family. We thank you for your dedication to our community church.

Pastor Appreciation

Faith Chapel Pentecostal Church really appreciates their pastor Jack Carpenter and their assistant pastor Ronnie Spoonamore.

DBCAA is accepting applications for its Weatherization Assistance Program beginning November 1, 2023. The mission of the program is to improve energy efficiency, household safety and to educate the public about maintaining energy efficiency. To be eligible, your family's income must fall below 200% of federal poverty guidelines (maximum income limit for a family of 4 is $60,000) and your home cannot have been weatherized since 2008.

Following are the services of the Weatherization Program:

- Educate clients in safety & energy efficiency · Professionally evaluates single family dwellings, multifamily dwellings & mobile homes for safety & energy efficiency
- Repairs or replaces existing heating systems as needed Insulates homes as needed
- Makes minor repairs to homes for health & safety
- Installs smoke & carbon monoxide detectors Please contact Daniel Boone Community Action Agency, Inc. at (606) 256-5315 for eligibility requirements, income limits per family size, and additional program information.
