An unusually large group of alumni will return to Transylvania College Sunday and Monday for class reunions, commencement exercises, and the annual luncheon meeting of the Transylvania Alumni Association. It was announced yesterday by Dr. M. L. Dean, president of the association.

Classes in intervals of five years (those whose graduating years end in two or seven) are holding reunions Sunday at Hamilton Hall, Transylvania's residence hall for women. Dr. Dean said. Special emphasis, he said, is being placed on the classes that were graduated 10, 15, 20, 25, and 50 years ago.

The class meetings and registration for the week-end will be held from 2 to 4 p. m. Sunday at Hamilton Hall, Dr. Dean said. Those who wish to remain and renew acquaintances may stay as long as they wish, he said, pointing out that all Transylvanians are invited to attend Baccalaureate services at 7:30 p. m. in the chapel of Morrison College, when Transylvania President Frank A. Rose will be the speaker.

A reception for seniors and their parents, alumni and friends of the college will be held by the faculty immediately after the Baccalaureate service at Hamilton Hall.

Highlight of the Alumni activities will be the annual luncheon and business meeting to be held at noon Monday on the lawn at Hamilton Hall. At this time, D. P. Vandiver, Louisville, president-elect, will take over as president and a new set of officers will be elected.

All alumni are invited to attend the commencement exercises to be held at 10 A. M. Monday in the chapel of Morrison College. Dr. Perry Epler Gresham, pastor of Central Woodward Christian church in Detroit, will be the speaker. Activities of the commencement week-end will close with the annual meeting of the college's board of curators Monday afternoon.

By the way, a good spray material is 50 percent methoxychlor, two level tablespoons per gallon of water. The best bush variety (as of this year) is Top Crop. Next year, it will be Wade, equal in all respects to Top Crop, but of deeper color. A 100-foot row can make up to five bushels; four, easily.

SPENCER FARMERS STRESS PASTURES

The Spencer county farmers are becoming alert to the importance of pastures is reported by Nevin L. Goebel, county agent with the University of Kentucky. He cites several instances of pasture improvement and increased acreage. Frank Rogers has 100 acres of Kenland-Bed Clover and 12 acres of Atlantic Alfalfa. After testing the soil in 11 fields, J. D. Brown stated he saved $400 in fertilizer, and through this savings will be able to fertilize additional pastures. Lee Stevens has spread about a third of the 1,000 tons of lime he plans to spread in the renovation of pastures this year. He operates more than 2,000 acres. Stuart Kelly fertilized more than 50 acres of pasture land this spring. Scott McClain is seeding two acres each of certified Atlantic Buffalo and Ranger alfalfa in his own fields to test the merits of each. According to reports of farmers and seed dealers, 1,000 acres of Atlantic alfalfa will be seeded this season.

THE WORLD'S HOPE

Witness of Jehovah Rose Jasper Today the world is in a chaotic fix. What is the reason and what is the world's hope? Christ Jesus has accomplished his first great act, that is, casting Satan the opposer out of heaven down to earth. (Rev. 12:7-12).

Satan the Devil now confines his work to the earth as it is written in (Rev. 16:14) If these days are not cut short there would be no flesh saved, but for the elect. These days shall be shortened. (Mt. 24:21,22) We therefore shall see the abomination of desolation spoken of by Daniel the prophet stand in the holy place where it ought not stand then flee to the mountains, that is symbolically speaking flee to Jehovah God and Christ Jesus and remain under the Jehovah's Organizational Church, the anti-typical ark. (Mt. 24:15)

In this way will come out alive with the multitude spoken of in (Rev. 7:13-17) and enter the new world wherein dwells righteousness under Our Heavenly King Christ Jesus. Then there will be no more war. We will not build and another inhabit, we will not plant and another eat for as the days of a tree are the days of my people and mine elect shall long enjoy the works of their hands. They will not hurt nor destroy in all my holy mountains, saith the Lord. Blessed are the meek for they shall inherit the earth. (2 Pt. 3:13) (Isa 65:17-25) (Luke 1:32-33) (Mt. 5:5)

And this "Gospel of the Kingdom" shall be preached throughout all the world as a Witness unto all nations then the end of these present systems of things will come. (Mt. 24:14)

Our long-sought for prayer will be answered. "Thy Kingdom Come. Thy will be done in earth." The other sheep are being gathered to the side of the Great Shepherd Christ Jesus. Are you in line to receive the Kingdom prepared from the foundation of the world? Flee now to Jehovah the true Living God and His Son, Christ Jesus Our King. (5a Jn. 10:18) (Mt. 25:31-46)

Christ Jesus Our King is on His throne with the court examinations now proceeding. Let the great Judge hand us down to a favorable decision.

THE SUMMING UP

A State Fair is a report on the progress of the state it represents. The Kentucky State Fair will attempt this year to crowd into 9 short days, September 5-13, the "summing up" of the greatest year our state has ever had in industrial expansion, agricultural growth, livestock breeding, 4-H Club and Future Farmers of America work, farm machinery development, needlecraft, horticulture, culinary art and the hundreds of other diversified interests that go into the making of a State Fair. The Kentucky State Fair is the biggest show of the year. We are proud of the fact, and proud of the progress your fair has made in recent years. Again this year the accent will be on Youth and Education. There will be a brand new Farm Equipment Department, a new "Made in Kentucky" section in the Merchants and Manufacturers Building and for the first time, a FREE grandstand to mention just a few of this year's attractions. The Kentucky State Fair has improved Kentucky Farms, built better livestock herds, and encouraged the efforts of all of its citizens for all of the 40 years of State Fair history.

The Cincinnati Reds are currently on an Eastern road trip during which time they will meet the Brooklyn Dodgers, Boston Braves, Philadelphia Phillies and New York Giants. They'll return to Crosley Field action on June 27 when they will open a three-day series with the Chicago Cubs. The Reds have played winning ball despite their recent streak of injuries which saw their three top hitters, Joe Adcock, Ted Kluszewski and Hank Edwards sidelined simultaneously. One of the big factors in the Reds fine play has been the recent hiring of young Frankie Smith, 6-3, 200 pound right-hand pitcher. The rubber-armed Smith has made innumerable trips to the mound to save ball games and with rare exceptions has come through with flying colors. Despite his youthful 24 years Smith has all the coolness and poise of a veteran hurler. Another big factor is the Reds Stellar play has been the return to the lineup of Kluszewski. When Big Ted crashed into the fence along the first base line at Crosley Field it was expected he'd be sidelined for some time. Kluszewski, however, surprised everyone by early return to first base duty and although limp-ing noticeably, was a big lift birdsfoot trefoil were made on to his mates. 13 farms in 'Boyle county in Tickets for future Redleg April. home games can be obtained by writing or visiting the Cincinnati Reds Ticket Office, 307 in Fulton county, James Amberg and George Helm having completed houses for their flocks of 8,000 and 6,000 chicks.

A STATEMENT OF POLICY

The directors and original stockholders of Sparks Funeral Home, Incorporated, wish to make this statement of policy: "All of us have been in business in and about Mt. Vernon for a number of years. We are interested in any good cause which we consider progressive and for the future betterment of Rockcastle County. Any legitimate business or industry which comes to the county is a step forward, even though it may at first appear to be in competition with other businesses which are already established. Rockcastle would be a poor county, indeed, if it had only one grocery store, one bank, one lawyer, one filling station. It should be considered as a compliment to our county when any individual or group of individuals has confidence enough in our future to be willing to invest here. Any and all established firms should cheerfully welcome new business in any legitimate, respectable endeavor, regardless of whether or not it may appear competitive.

"The Directors and original Stockholders of Sparks Funeral Home Incorporated believe in Democracy and the American Way of Life. Among many other things this means that any young man shall have the right to establish a business of his own anywhere within the U. S. A., provided he is legally and morally qualified to practice his profession.

"Each of us has had occasion, more than once, to help some young man get a start in the business world. Believe it or not, every business man who is worth his salt lends a helping hand upon many occasions when he has no idea of profiting personally. "If our young men are not encouraged and permitted to engage in business it is hardly worthwhile to send them away to school. We older, established firms could preserve the status quo during our life time; but after that the U. S. A. would just have to close up shop and go out of business.

"The Directors and Incorporators of Sparks Funeral Home Incorporated believe that Alfred Sparks is an excellent and deserving young man. He came back to his home town with the idea of rendering a necessary service for which he has prepared himself. He thinks that Rockcastle can support another Funeral Home and we agree with him. We think that he is more interested in helping the other fellow in time of need than he is in making a fortune for himself, and we like this trait in Alfred.

"You are cordially invited to visit the Sparks Funeral Home at anytime, for just a friendly get-acquainted call for confidential questioning upon financial arrangements or for any service which Alfred can render in times of sorrow. Ambulance service is available twenty-four hours of every day. As evidence that this Corporation is not a business organized for the benefit of a few men, you too can become a part owner for a small amount of money. Stock in this Funeral Home is being sold to investors all over Rock-

Alfred B. Sparks, Jr. Funeral Director and Embalmer

Alfred graduated from Mt. Vernon High School in 1942, after which he served in the U. S. Navy for three and one half years during World War II. A portion of that period was spent in China, Japan and various Pacific Islands. Following his discharge he spent a year in a government Hospital.

About six years ago Alfred was married to Miss Eva Taylor of Somerset, Ky; and they have one small daughter, Sharon. He served his apprenticeship for Funeral Director and Embalmer with The Somerset Undertaking Co. and graduated from the Kentucky School of Embalming at Louisville.

Alfred held the Signal reporter: "I gave up a good position with the Somerset Undertaking Company to come to Mt. Vernon and go into business. This is where I grew up and the place which I always thought of as home. During the months and years when I had to be away I had always planned and dreamed of coming back to Mt. Vernon to live. While I was away my father had moved to Cincinnati. He sold his home there and joined me in a partnership in The Sparks Funeral Home, which was opened in the Abb Sparks homestead on West Main Street, last November.

With the idea of increasing our capital, improving our service and making the business more of a community project, we incorporated April 1st of this year, taking nine of Rockcastle's leading business men as incorporators. These men have done a lot of work in setting up the company but none of them have asked, expected nor received one cent for their services.

"Almost half the stock in Sparks Funeral Home Incorporated was reserved for sale in small share lots to citizens scattered all over Rockcastle County.

"I do not ask for favors. I do ask for the common courtesy usually extended by established firms to new firms attempting to get a start in their community. I do appeal to Rockcastle citizens to investigate our business, to visit our Funeral Home, to take advantage of our twenty-four hour ambulance service, to give us due consideration when sorrow strikes in your home. Our best references are those families who have used our services since the Sparks Funeral Home was opened."

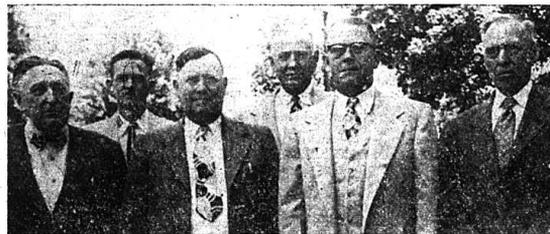

The Sparks Funeral Home located on the corner of West Main and Quarry Street, almost directly across the road from the Mount Vernon Baptist Church. The Home is completely equipped to render the best service possible to those who seek comfort and assurance in the hour of grief. The Home has a chapel room, to hold private services if desired. It has a piano that can be used if desired. There are floor lights, and a pulpit for the minister. There are extra rooms for peace and quiet for the family and friends.

"As ex-service men and respectable young business men of this community Alfred Sparks and his apprentice, Charles Alfred Mullins, deserve your friendly interest and consideration at all times."

Charles Alfred Mullins

Charles Alfred Mullins has just completed his second hitch with the U. S. Navy and returned to Mt. Vernon to make his home. He is the son of Bentley Mullins and the late Edna Davis Bird, a grandson of Cam Mullins and Charles C. Davis, all of whom were Rockcastle citizens. After knocking about rather much all over the world Charles Alfred decided that Mt. Vernon was a pretty good place to live. He is serving his apprenticeship with his cousin, Alfred Sparks, at the Sparks Funeral Home, with the expectations of later going to fully prepare himself to become a Funeral Director.

Charles Alfred served his first enlistment period with the U. S. Navy in World War II. After this time he worked with the Kentucky Highway Department and made up his last hours to graduate from Mt. Vernon High School in 1948. He later enlisted again in the Navy, from which he has just been honorably discharged due to the expiration of his enlistment period.

RAMBLINGS

This week the newspapers of Kentucky will hold their annual summer outing at Ken- tucky Lake State Park near Paducah. It will be the first time that many of the editors will have had an opportunity to see this great man-made lake with its huge dam at Gilbertsville and its excellent state park. Every year the editors of the state meet at some convenient spot within the state for a few days of recreation.

But it is not all fun either. There is considerable confer- ence work connected with these summer meetings. On of the important events is awarding of prizes to the newspapers who have entries in the various contests.

Once in a while we have entered some of the contests. We won a few, perhaps an edit- ing contest or two in first place, a few wins in second place and a few good advertisements. But over the years we have not en- tered a few of these newspa- per contests. Competition is keen. Kentucky has many good writers. There are some excellent writ- ers. So if anybody wins he has to show something worthwhile.

I have just listened to Sena- tor Humphrey of Minnesota get- ting through a half an hour of cross-examination by four newspaper men. This was on the radio. He was asked a lot of seemingly embarrassing ques- tions but he carried off pretty well. He was quick on his feet. However I did not agree with all his explanations on political dope. He thought that Democratic party was not close to the people and yet needs new blood to revitalize it. His estimate of the various candidates was enlightening but not convincing. His support of the President's position in reference to the steel mill seizure seem not to be convincing. I seem not tenable. Why should a President of the United States ignore a law of the land? Why should he have to be impeached by Congress to invoke the Taft- Hartley Act in the steel strike? Just because we do not like all the laws of the land we want to give us cause for its disobedience.

In two different issues of the Signal we have had some articles about those interesting human tracks found on a farm in the north east part of the county. These are really a very inter- esting phenomenon. To the ge- ologist they are extremely im- portant.

When I talked to Dr. W. G. Burrouse about these tracks he became very enthusiastic. He believes that they are genu- ine, that they are millions of years old, and that they should be carefully preserved.

Unfortunately some people have gone there to see them without realizing their import. Some vandals scratched figures on the rock. Others built a fire there, and there has been a general mutilation. They didn't look the same as they did when first discovered. Dr. Burrouse asks that everyone who sees these tracks take every precau- tion not to mar or injure them in any way. They should be protected so that future generations can also see them and get a glimpse of the dis- tant past.

The Signal is very grateful to the many kind words that have come to us in recent weeks about this content of the paper. We appreciate all this, but we want you to know that any kind of criticism will be welcome. We want to make a start. We got a long way to go yet. There is much to be done. We want to make the Signal the kind of a paper you want to read. We want it to uphold every good cause in the community. We want to make it force against evil and a power for good.

CLEAR CREEK COMMENTS

By Cleatus Tussey

Well, I landed back in here yesterday morning about day light, plum wore out and my shoe soles wore into the quick. I walked all the way from Ohio some of the folks who had been down here for the Decoration Day, and shucks they ain't never done no work as hard as I could this way. I knowed they wuz just awfully gettin' tired a bunch of good eatin'. I wuz fool en- ough to get me a job in one of them factories. Well, they took me down to one of the places where they said I could get a job and that wuz the biggest buildin' I ever seed, and all I ever been used to wuz Jonah's know what wuz that. Theyse a man in there that axed me all kinds of questions and looked me all over. He fin- ally asked me what wuz the hardest work I ever done, and after I told him it wuz grittin' flour in an Association, he jest laughed and he wanted me to come on back home. Betcha he ain't never done no work as hard as that. I thought me a Bus as far as I could this way, and when my money run out, the Captain of the Bus made me get up and to cap it all off, he throwed my suitcase off the top of the bus and tore the door open. It fien a wire fence had't been right close by, where I could get me a piece of tie it up. I shore would have had a tussle.

Arminia wuz right glad to see me and she said she had written you that I wuz a comin' back, but you know women, they jest say one thing and aims to take off fer Arkansas some of these days and she may have to come after me before she gets me again. You know I git these rambling blues and a suitcase handle jest fits my hand.

Theyse wuz a lot of people around here went to the dif- ferent places to observe Deco- ration Day. There are so many country church yards that are grown up with trees, briars and bushes that it is hard to tell where a lot of people are bur- ied and so many graves are un- marked. A well kept cemetery around here would be a grand thing, and it should be kept so. These a little grave yard in the north east part of the county, where there are a few more church, which is all grown up in weeds and briars. One of the Holders boys was atakin to him about it and said he wuz gonna get me to go to the place he clean it off afore another Decoration Day, and he wuz all dressed up in them purty but- ton shoes and new top pants and a straw hat on that would make the best lid fer a meal barrel. You know he tole me that come judgement Day, every body there brans! I guess he could have spent a little of that city money and get some body to do the one the work fer him, but people forget so easily.

I have been wondering what he has done for the people who used to sing the old love songs and knew them all by heart. My Grandmother used to sing "The Crow in Black My Love". "The Crow in Black" I don't hear any more. I would be glad to hear the words of any old love songs and please don't send any of these "I want To Be a Cow- boy's Sweetheart" stuff, but I would like to see you sweethear- mother used to sing The songs they sing today have no com- parison with the ones that were used to woe you sweethear- then, nor do you get the same kind of girls with them either.

I took me a little ginseng and some valerroot over to Berea long back to see ifen I could trade it in on a little powder for my smoking habit. Mr. and Mrs. Graden Wright, Pvt. Booby Proctor and Mrs. Proctor of Louisville spent the week-end with me and Mrs. Hart's store. You know old Charley uster live here on this creek and he always throws me in a little piece of that sweet- yest when I trade sun with him. But as I went in to work, Ide stopped to let my jenny rest some under a big tree, and theyse a little cow in there in nothing but whittin'. Tole me his name wuz Pruitte Smith and that he wuz a plumber or something like that, and axed what a plumber wuz. He said they foiled around with water pipes fer people and axed what the wuz but charged me more like hell. You orta heard him brag on hisself about being a Kentucky Kernel, but axed what on um kind wuz a suit and nary badge of no kind to show what war he'd even bin in. I call that a pore kernel of fien innny man, sob, don't you. I betcha hes the laziest man in the country, but theyse a man tole me that axed me con- nected sum way er the other with a collidge there, and he said it wuz his first time hee in Louisville when he was a Plumber. I remember seein him down to John Payne's store one time, and blamed ifen he had't started in there with more'n a dollar wuth of cheese and only give the store man a dime. Hee better neww come to my place and see me for pipe at my spring as I take my musket and show him how to brag about being a Kentucky Kernel.

I can git so dabburned mad at um way an time, I bet you that I can't hardly say a word. Why now, when you go to the store and ax fer something, you know what wuz that. You gonna git ner what you'll wind up with. Arminia had sent me down to the store to git her a pair of shoes, and she said she'd sum assultity as pore little Zer- ilda has been looking kinder puny this spring. She wouldn't let me go to the store, and she jest right and we had a plum pore crop of worm seed last fall. Well, I took a notion I'd take the sum of that store man. The store man tole me that he had drummer in there rite then who sold it and said his name wuz sumpin like Jert, Bur- Boys, Iffen live ever seed me a dressed up dude, who had on one of them suits that Spiegel had sold fer six dollars and half and give you two years to pay fer it in, and he wuz wearin' little half-leggins that wuz sold fer a time, and he tole that schoolin' hadent took with him too well and I bet a nickle hee voted the Democrat in there some time ago. He tole me to give me a sample us his flour, and he called it "Snowdrift" and sum self me "White". I wuz ever heard of rissin meal? I wish hee busted his knuckles on a gritter a time er rite hee bust his knuckles on about no sich stuff. Well, I took all home with me and Armin- ia rite to make sum biscuits out of the flour. He rite to me one bite of them and walked to the door and throwed the whole danged mess out in the yard. He rite to me and started to eat one of them and spit it out and ran over and started to eat dog-fennel, jest as if he had't eat no such thing. He taste outen his mouth. She put wall paper up with the rest of it, and give us the old cow- boy meal. They jest tole me none us them new-fangled things off on me.

Kentucky Needs Dairy Farming

The rolling hills of Kentuck- y are covered with grass or trees. However, these hills can play havoc with soil conservation when they are plowed and planted in row crops. Consequently, pasture or should be the basic feed crop on a large portion of all our farms. With the average farm having less than 90 acres and a tobacco base of less than 2 acres, there is need for livestock that can market grass profitably, provide yeararound employment for farm labor, and produce high returns per acre of land. Dairy cattle are excellent for this purpose.

The increased urban popula- tion and the need for indus- trial development has created a growing need for dairy prod- ucts. Growth and expansion of the city of Louisville has cre- ated a market for thousands of farmers who formerly could sell only sour cream.

The dairy cow needs dairy- men. Rapid strides are being made in the improvement of pastures and forage crops. Dairy- men should be members of the Improvement Association, call out their low producers and breed the rest to get the best of the Ky. Artificial Breeding As- sociation), stand to profit much by developing a high producing dairy herd. The best of the milk can be produced econom- ically and sold on a competi- tive market.

A good herd of Kentucky farms can be made to fit into a well- planned farm program on most types of farms. It will cover cur- rent expenses incident to a good standard of living. The revenue from these lands can thus be used to improvements or investments in the future.

The program has been suc- cessful in Kentucky. It has been in Kentucky dairying.

Artificial breeding, which is now almost six years old in this state, has had a tremen- dous effect on dairying. With over ten percent of the cattle in the state being bred this way, the program has been a suc- cess. The state now has forty- four local artificial breeding associations which will probably have increased to twenty per cent of its cattle this year.

This program has done many things to promote better dairy- ing, thereby increasing the in- come of the dairymen. Let's take a look at the things the program has done for dairying.

First of all, it has provided dairymen with the use of high quality sires of many breeds at a low cost. This is supplying the dairymen with the tools needed to improve their cattle for more milk and better type. Dairy milk must have not only quantity but quality, and this is particularly important, the right environ- ment.

This program has effected economic dairying. Dairymen taken more pride in their off- spring, have given them better feeding and care. Arti- ficial breeding has brought a premium price in many cases. Breeding records kept by the artificial breeding associations have been essential for successful dairying. These records often help to catch and cull trouble makers. They indicate when to dry off the cow, when to rebreed, birth dates, etc. Another important thing is that this program has aided in preventing the spread of disease from farm to farm. The technicians equipment is usually sterile, and he dis- infects his boots before leaving each farm. One infected cow or bull brought into a herd has in-

The dairy cow needs dairy- men. Rapid strides are being made in the improvement of pastures and forage crops. Dairy- men should be members of the Improvement Association, call out their low producers and breed the rest to get the best of the Ky. Artificial Breeding As- sociation), stand to profit much by developing a high producing dairy herd. The best of the milk can be produced econom- ically and sold on a competi- tive market.

A good herd of Kentucky farms can be made to fit into a well- planned farm program on most types of farms. It will cover cur- rent expenses incident to a good standard of living. The revenue from these lands can thus be used to improvements or investments in the future.

The program has been suc- cessful in Kentucky. It has been in Kentucky dairying.

Artificial breeding, which is now almost six years old in this state, has had a tremen- dous effect on dairying. With over ten percent of the cattle in the state being bred this way, the program has been a suc- cess. The state now has forty- four local artificial breeding associations which will probably have increased to twenty per cent of its cattle this year.

This program has done many things to promote better dairy- ing, thereby increasing the in- come of the dairymen. Let's take a look at the things the program has done for dairying.

First of all, it has provided dairymen with the use of high quality sires of many breeds at a low cost. This is supplying the dairymen with the tools needed to improve their cattle for more milk and better type. Dairy milk must have not only quantity but quality, and this is particularly important, the right environ- ment.

This program has effected economic dairying. Dairymen taken more pride in their off- spring, have given them better feeding and care. Arti- ficial breeding has brought a premium price in many cases. Breeding records kept by the artificial breeding associations have been essential for successful dairying. These records often help to catch and cull trouble makers. They indicate when to dry off the cow, when to rebreed, birth dates, etc. Another important thing is that this program has aided in preventing the spread of disease from farm to farm. The technicians equipment is usually sterile, and he dis- infects his boots before leaving each farm. One infected cow or bull brought into a herd has in-

Tell the Truth

Lesson for June 14, 1952

FOR SALE: A pot all of George Washington, engraved on the finest bond paper, suitable for framing. Send only 25c, while they last. See an advertisement some place. When subscribers sent in their questions, what they got back were two stamps. Now the ad had not "told a lie" in direct words. It was a central Washington, right enough; a postage stamp in engraved form on the finest bond paper, a. n. It's suitable for framing. If you like to frame anything as small as that. So the subscribers could not get their money back. But the ad was a lie, and that is what I'm doing today in thinking something that wasn't true.

Lies can be told without the use of words at all, lies can be told with the use of words, with facial expressions or gestures. A false window can be full of lies, for the merchandise inside may not be actually like what they will sell you in the dim-lit store. Truth is more than just not telling a lie in its actual words, but conveying ideas that do not deceive.

Scientific Truth

ESUS said: "I argued that truth is right, just as he seldom if ever argued that honesty is a good thing. Every one knows it."

What would you think of a person who came to you with this recom- mendation? "This man is a hard worker, he has plenty of brains, he has only one ambition and that is to be a liar." You'd never hire him. Every one wants truth told him.

But there are different kinds of scientific truth. Now it is hardly possible to tell the complete truth from a scientific point of view.

"What is the answer to you?" is a simple question and most people answer it simply: Five, or fifty-five, or whatever the nearest year may be. But there are scientific answers, five and how many months, how many weeks, how many days, hours, minutes, seconds.

You see by the time you have figured it out to seconds which would be the scientific truth you are already several minutes older.

What would you think of a man who came to you with this recom- mendation? "This man is a hard worker, he has plenty of brains, he has only one ambition and that is to be a liar." You'd never hire him. Every one wants truth told him.

Social Truth

"THE KING of truth in which Jesus A was especially interested, and which he took the most interest in, was what we call social truth, the kind of truthfulness that makes for friendly and trustworthy relations between man and man.

VIRGINIA RAIL

When a fisherman hears grunting sounds coming from a fresh water marsh, he might think, at first, that some baby pigs had wandered into the reeds and cattails. But if he knows his way around the out-docks, he realizes that the noises are made by Virginia Rails.

The shy birds, though graceful in actions, just at their singers. Besides grunting, they make kicking sounds. And sometimes they call, "wak-wak-wak" or "kid-kid-kid-kid."

months, the tinge of green disappears and they turn a plain black. Later, they begin to resemble their parents.

Both the male and the female adults are reddish brown birds. The feathers on their backs are streaked with black. Behind their legs and under their short perky tails, they are marked with black and white bars.

Their cheeks are gray, and their throats are white. For pecking in the marshes they have long slightly curved bills. When fully grown, the birds are about nine or ten inches long.

With slender, delicate legs, they walk daintily about in the marshes, looking for food. They are especially fond of insects, and they also eat wild wild oats and other grass seeds.

In the summer, when they are raising their families, Virginia Rails live in southern Canada and the Northern half of the United States. To escape cold weather, they spend the winter in the southern part of our country, and some of them go to Cuba, Bermuda and Guatemala.

"Company Meals" on Short Notice -with Home-Canned Chicken!

Chicken put up in your own cans! You can have a "company meal" on short notice. You can celebrate a birthday or anniversary with an extra special dinner; or you can give the family an unexpected treat any time if you have a supply of home-canned chicken on hand.

You may can chicken on or off the bone. The boneless pack takes a little more time but canned boneless chicken is more useful because it's ready for instant use, either for sandwiches or a main dinner dish.

To can chicken without bones, pack 6 cups of water in a steam pressure cooker and steam plump hens in 10 pounds pressure until they are cooked through but not tender. Cooking time depends upon age and size of hens; 30 minutes is about average. Take hens out of cooker and put cooker where broth will cool.

Use sharp knife to cut chicken from bone; then cut meat in thick pieces and place in clean, hot Ball Mason Jars. Leave about 1 inch headspace. Add 1/4 teaspoon salt and 1/2 teaspoon oil to each jar. Pour the grease from the broth in the cooker, pour the broth into a ket-le and put it on the stove to boil to boiling. Wash the cooker; add measure of water needed for processing and set cooker on stove, with an extra special dinner; or you can give the family an unexpected treat any time if you have a supply of home-canned chicken on hand.

"Pinch-Hitting" Temporary Pastures Help Provide Cow Filling Forage All Summer Long

MAINTAINING a cow-filling pasture supply all season long is like building a winning baseball team. You've got to have reliable substitutes when some of your regulars are out of the line-up.

Temporary pastures such as Sudan grass, the aftermath of hay fields, and small grains can provide pinch-hitting forage to tide you over during emergencies when drouthy summer weather dries up bluegrass.

Such substitute forage can prevent a drop in milk production or a loss of weight in beef cattle. It can save you money by eliminating the cost of feeding more grain.

Good production from any pasture depends on a high level of soil fertility. That's particularly true of Sudan grass. Adding a complete fertilizer carrying nitrogen, phosphate and potash when you seed the grass will assure abundant growth. Sudan needs plenty of nutrients to make thick, high yielding stands. Sudan grass can be seeded any time through early June. You can use a grain drill or broadcast seeder, set at the rate of 30 to 35 pounds of seed per acre.

Agronomists advise keeping stock off sweet Sudan grass until it is at least 18 inches high, as a safeguard against bloat. The Sudan grass will be pasturing them for three or four days when new growth starts after a long drouth or light frost.

Dairy specialists have estimated that in hot weather, you can expect one to three more cans of milk a day from a 20-cow herd on Sweet Sudan pasture. The Sudan grass will provide succulent feed for your cows until your regular standby pastures are back in high production again.

NEW TAX LAW Diesel fuel, liquidified petroleum gas (bottled gas) and all other special motor fuels used to operate motor vehicles on public highways in Kentucky are covered under a new tax law which becomes effective July 1, 1952. The tax is 7c per gallon. David K. Walker, Director of Excise Taxes, Department of Revenue announced.

Gasoline is covered under a separate law. The motor fuel tax is in reality a tax for building and maintaining our highways. The tax is placed on motor fuel because that is the most economical and simplest way to pay for the use of roads. The tax

ON KENTUCKY FARMS The use of tile is bringing into production in the best land in Estill county. Four-H club members in Lawrence county set out 21,000 strawberry plants in April. Due to the shortage of lespezea seed, many farmers in the state are threatened with hay shortage.
