But the week of Sept. 19-25 is the week designated to focus especially on the topic throughout the country for 1993 National Farm safety and Health Week. "This year marks the 50th annual observance of National Farm Safety and Health Week," said Larry Piercy, extension safety specialist with the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture.

Agriculture.

"It's a good time to remind all of us that injuries and illnesses can have serious impact upon the farm family and the entire farming operation," he said. "In fact, a fatality or permanent injury can be even more devastating han a flood, drought or disease which might wipe out an entire year for a farming operation."

This year's national theme is "Safety and Health -- Agriculture's Future," to remind the nation's farmers of that fact, Piercy said.

"Injuries and illnesses: an be prevented," he said. "They aren't random events over which we have no control. The means and methods are available to greatly reduce the risk of farm injuries and illnesses:

What are some of those methods that can help reduce the aready high incidence of on-farm accidents in Kentucky and the rest of the nation?

Fall pansies give profusion of colors for next spring

Fall-planted pansies have larger, more abundant blooms than plants set out in the spring. "Pansies grown as winter annuals have time to develop a good root system during the fall and early winter," said Bob Anderson, Extension floriculturist at the University of Kentery State of Agriculture State plants out in early October, generally before the 15th, so the root system becomes established before winter temperatures freeze plants to the ground.*

Anderson said UK variety trials indicated the value and outstanding performance of fall-planted pansies compared to spring plasting.

Parsies planted if the fall and overwintered come out in the spring with multiple stems; they usually were taleast twice as large as those planted in the spring, he said. Although they had some blooms in the fall and winter, the real show was in the spring, Pansies began to flower in Marr or earlier, depending on late wither works. It was not unusual to winter weather. It was not unusual to have 35 to 50 flowers at one time throughout May."
"Spring-planted pansies tolerated summer heat better than those planted

Grazing alfalfa field day is set for September 22

Grazing alfalfa to make cattle sys-tems more profitable is the theme of a field day September 22 in Lincoln County.

The field day will be at the John Elliott Jr. farm on Highway 198, southwest of Stanford. It begins at 4:30 p.m. "Farmers can see the results of three years' hard grazing on the first field-scale Allagraze plotes established in the U.S.," said Jimmy Deming, Extension agronomist at the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture. These plots were worked hard and survived long rotations and sometimes continuous grazing for a month or more. "Alfagraze was selected at the University of Gorgia under continuous, heavy grazing pressure," he added. "The researchers' aim was to produce a variety that would with-stand more continuous grazing constand more continuous grazing con-ditions without losing the stand. The field plots in Lincoln County were planted to see if Georgia results could be duplicated under our weather be duplicated under our weather conditions. "Another field day segment deals with establishing no-till alfalfa in pasture fields, according to Henning. Topics include grass management, herbicide use and post-seeding management. Other field day topics include variety selection, managing, alfalfa and cattle under grazing, easy grazing plans, fencing and water systems and using alfalfa to improve pasture.

"Improved grazing systems will add a lot to the bottom line for Kenucky farmers," Henning said. "These systems mean heavier calves, which trahslate into more dollars in farmers' pockets, belter summer pastures, and al-purpose forage for hay or graz-

Farm Accidents Report

Fifteen Kentuckians lost their lives in farming accidents during the first six months of this year, according to Kentucky Farm Bureau's latest farm fatality expense.

Kentucky Farm Bureau's latest farm fatality, survey.
Fourteen of the victims died as a result of mishaps involving farm machinery, and one death occurred when a woman was mauled by a bull. No one from Rockastle was killed.

The mid-year fatality total was two more than the 13 recorded during the same period of 1992. But it was well under the 22 deaths experienced over the second half of last year, which pushed the 92 year-end total to 35. Tractor accidents accounted for all

Improvements in economy expected to favor consumer

Economic conditions continue to improve and that means a favorable outlook for consumers concerned about food expenditures over the next several months.

several months.

"Nine consecutive quarters of output growth have occurred without causing consumer prices to increase dramatically," said Forrest Stegelin, extension martest specialist with the University of Kentacky College of Agriculture. Both short and long-term interest rates remain low."

That means, he said, that as consumer incomes continue to rise! conditions become more favorable for the red meat and poultry industries. That situation contrasts sharply with weaker oversease economies which have limited export sales to the U.S., especially in higher priced red meats. What's likely to happen in the near to intermediate future?

Stegelin said, "For the rest of 1993 and into 1994, modest improvement in the economy is expected to continue. Real output growth of around 2.5 peccent is forecast for 1993 and stiphtly higher in 1904." Nine consecutive quarters of out-

What Saith the Scriptures

In Ps. 127:1 we read "except the Lord build the house, they labour in vain that build it: except the Lord keep the city, the watchman waketh but in vain." In Mt. 15:13-14 we read "every plant, which my Heaventy father hath not planted, shall be rooted up. Let them alone: they be blind leaders of the blind. And if the blind lead the blind, both shall fall into the direct.

One of the sad facts, that is revealed in the Bible, is that most folks are going to be lost, Mr. 7:13-14. Few walk the straight and narrow way, while most are following the broad way that leads to destruction. The verses cited above, teach us that even religious people will be of those, who are going to be lost. God must build the house, or the workers are building in vain. Many are building houses (churches) that are founded on human wisdom and human doctrine, but all this labour is in vain. Vain means useless, of no avail, of no profit. God has one "plant" he is arising here on earth. Evrity plant that is of man's origin and doctrine, is destined to be rooted up. Too many in our world are taught to think that what we are doing religiously, makes no difference to God. That somehow we can believe and practice just about anything, if we are sincere, and that God will be well pleased. The yay we are all going to Heaven, just in little different directions. My friends, such a doctrine as this sijust god. So Mho was Seaus Liking about in Mt. 15:13-14? He was dealing with folks who are religiouslerors, Mt. 7:21-23 is talking about in College who claim to follow Jessas, they claim to do many "wonderful works" in Christ iname. Unproved health cures and devices

There are over 30 million consumers without health care. In addition, there are many consumers who are arriad of doctors. Because of these two factors, many consumers are turning to questionale health cures and healthcare devices for illnesses. Though some might be good, many are bad. The only way to know for sure is to check with your local doctor or health clinic. Don't buy a health product or healthcare equipment just because of someone else's say so; check first with a doctor or county health department.

Brodhead man dies of gunshot wound

A Brodhead man is dead and a New Albany Indiana man has been charged with murder. According to Rockcastle County deputy sheriff, Randall Reynolds, Charles Eddie Hopkins, 29 of Brod-head died after pe was shot with a .38-colt revolver around 6:30 p.m. Priday night night.

Reynolds charged William J.

Ross, 30, with murder. He is being held in Rockcastle County jail under a $100,000 cash bond, pending his arraingment in Rockcastle district court.

Rockcastle County deputy coroner Roy Martin said Monday that preliminary autopsy reports indicated that Hopkins died from three guashot wounds. One to the lower abdomen, one in the shoulder and one in the finger. Martin pronounced Hopkinsdead at 9:05 p.m. at the Rockcastle

Hospital.
According to Reynolds the incident occurred at the home of Jerry Ross on Negro Creek read. Jerry Ross is William's brother.
Reynolds said that Hopkins and Ross were passengers in a car driven by Gary Day of Brodhead. "When Day stopped the car at Jerry Ross's house all three men got out and Hopkins and Ross went to the back of act," Reyrolds said. Day tald police that the two men had been argain; before they got out of the car and that they both walked to the back of the car when they got out. That is where the shots were fired. Reyrolds said att Hopkins was not armed.

Funeral services for Hopkins were held Mondby afternoon. (See complete oblituary - Page B-4)

The Rockcastle Fiscal Court put off a final decision on renovation of the county jail at a called meeting of the court Tuesday.

The low bid after two tries was $575,000 by McKnight and Associates of London.

$375,000 by McKnight and Associates of London.

The county only has about $250,000 to spend, far short of the necessary amount to meet state requirements.

The court was told by Richard Stephens of the State Corrections Cabinet that there are no grants available by any state agency.

He suggested the county decide on renovation or a new separate jail at some location. He said lots of jails are in trouble these days because they did not have an adequate source of income to repub borrowed money. You need to generate funds, "he add, "otherwise you will find yourself in deep trouble."

He pointed out that jails do not have a seady population which make; it difficult to judge funding.

He estimated that by the time all state requirements are met jail renover.

make in the next couple of months, a decision that many think has already been made. .

The board will have to decide whether or not they will close Livingston Elementary School, next fall.

That decision was actually made in 1991 by the board after a committee recommended that a new high school be converted to a middle school. Once all that is accomplished Livingston school will be left with only about 120 students.

At the time the committee made their recommendations the state said that any elementary school should have at least 300 students to be considered a permanent facility.

At that time the state said no funds could be spent on a facility with less than 300 students because they were considered a transitional center.

they were considered a transitional center.

Whowever, the guidelines set down by the state in 1991, are no more. They practically went out the door with the implementation of KERA and now a school can have as titled or as many students as the school board and community desire.

The recently impaneled local planning committee for Rockeastle schools will have tons of information to consider, they will lord four public forums, one in each elementary school district to get public comment and hery will have to then come up with a new facilities plan for the entire district. Many think that recommendation will be one that includes the closing of Livingston Elementary school

Residents, alumni, parents and teachers at Livingston are organizing an all out effort to keep the local board from closing the school. In neighboring Garrard County a couple of years ago, the board of education there was planning to close Paint Lick Elementary School. Paint Lick residents became very upper, protested to the board and the board

Someone from the Scout's office called me up and wanted to know if I could make it to Baltimore for an interview the next day. I told them I couldn't even get to the outskirts of Pikeville and proceeded to forget about the job. A few nights later I got a call telling me to report to work. That job sent me all around the country and literally kept me in school. I learned later that D.C. Taylor had told them to either hire me or leave him alone.

"The only qualification you have for this job' the scout executive told me, "is that your high school principal told us that The Boy Scouts of American could go to @ Walk in a hand basket if we didn't hire you. We want you to know that you're in over your head but etc, etc, etc."

Three summers later I was running the camp because Mr. Taylor was right about me.

I could write on and on and on, but we're out of space here.

I'd like to invite all of you readers to get in touch with the best educator of my life. I wish that I could wave a wand and make every principal of every high school be just like him because I know the drop-out rate would decline to nearly nothing if schflool officials just knew how to do

In the meantime, Mr. Taylor is retired in Bell County. Elizabeth tells me that it is a fairly lonely retirement because he misses having a bunch of kids like yours truly under his arm.

I miss him too. I miss him terribly and I hope that we'll get to spend some time fishing and chewing the fat some time soon.

Please drop Mr. Taylor a line, if you attended Letcher High School while he was there, And if you didn't attend Letcher, write him anyway. Good educators need to be thanked for their excellence and this man was as good as they get.

Boy, wasn't glad I didn't have to cook supper, nor wash dishes, last Saturday evening!
John and I were invited to a Family Cookou' at the home of Howard Woodson and his pretty wife, Della, on Menelaus Road, for several men who have thrown their hast into the 'political ring' for the Madison County offices that will be up and empty his fall.
John was very pleased to find out handsome Kent Clark is a candidate for Madison County Judge. With that thick black hair, and a blacker mustache, along withthe friendliest smile, he may just come under the winner's wire first.
We women will like that friendly smile under the black mustache that will show a row of white even teeth liked tial myself except learnt vote in a Democrat race. I can talk.

Changing Times

Changit Drifting down the highway the other day after spending a few days in the Cincinnati area I had cause to remember a few things of yesteryear that brought forth a chuckle. It even suprised me whenone of these chuckles breaks through the silence of or usually my thoughts are on more serious things, such as guarding wiself from the other drivers on the road whoare not using the same rules.
I do. So many drivers don't seem to know what the turn signals are for nor what distance to use in front of or behind other cars' in a stream of traftic so one has to be ever on the alert.
Today was-different. My thoughts were pleasant-ones of the visiting I had just had with what family I have left. The highway was not crowded, other drivers were courteous and the eventing was a perfect one for traveling. As I have stated before I don't care for most of the radio music of today and had left my upes at home so everything was quiet except for the hum of the motor and an occasional humming from my own throat.

This was a pleasant way to spend the few hours between Cincinnati and Mt. Vernon. The soft evening shades were filling the hollows and the hill tops were etched against the fading light of day. The strong hint of autumn was already evident in the autumn was already evident in the fading colors of the hillsides. And

Marler Story By: Ruby Marler Alcorn

The Ruby

Today I am writing about my life as achild. I was born March 10, 1931 in Rockeastle County. I attended a little one room school named Rocksprings for eight years.

One weekend a friend and I were skating on my grandfather's pondand. I had a fail. I was in the hospital for weeks with a brain concussion and was in a coma. I prayed for the Lord to help me as I remembered hearing about people being burled alive in a coma. As I lay there I could hear every thing that was being said but I was unable to move or speak. It was a scary time for me.

was unable to move or speak. It was a scary time for me.

The third day my prayers were answered. When I finally got home and after several weeks of bed prest, I got to go back to school. Everyone was glad to see me bortwhen I tried to work I found out that I wasn't able to work I found out that I wasn't able to learn. The accident had blocked my memory. What can a child do with their time and not be in school?

My dad hired me a tutor but with all the help I could get I still wasn't able

In 1990 I called the Family Life enter School, Mrs. Lisa Bosley came Center School. Mrs. Lisa Bossey came to my house twice a week for a year. Then I started coming up to the school each day for three hours, where I am still going today. After all the yearshave gone by, I now can learn with the help of medication. I soon will be getting my GED and off to another school.

ordinary highway traffic with its ever changing pattern of passing cars in trigue me.

The fast pace of today's world has no time for taking care of grandmas. With the grown up sons and daughters having to work andmany of them living in far away places and the grand kids off to college or at work how in the world could they find time to drive grandma to the doctor or shopping? Oh yes, most of us would like this attention for we also have the need for companionship and love that was shown our elders but we must live in the time frame of our life span. The eighty years of my life span has brought me from the horse and buggy days when grandmas were considered old women when they celebrated heir iffitieth birthday to today's world of eighty year old women owning and driving their own modern cars on busy highways. From the time when all our written work was done with the pen to the time when the same work is now done quickly by the use of a word processor. And from the time when are now the responsibility of grandmas to rock and care for and are now the responsibility of a paid babysitter or day care center. I wonder who has lost or gained the most during these changing times, the grandma? the grandkids? the parents? society?

By hanging out after school, some kids in Jessamine County are falling in with the right crowd.

For kids having a difficult time in high school, quitting often seems the easiest way ou But in Jessamine County, the Extended School Services Program is giving kids a chance to fit in find friends and improve grades all at the same time.

By meeting with a small group of students after school or during the summer, program coordinators such as Beverly Freeman can work more closely with each student. Designed specifically to help stulents who are at risk of failing academically, the program allows kids to spend extra time within a cooperative environment. Together, students study everything from algebra to the classics of literature.

By giving students a fair shot at success, the Extended School Services Program is proof that the Kentucky Education Reform Act (KERA) is working. Even after school lets out. For more information on the Extended School Services

Thank You, Dan McKibben

(In answer to your article of August 5, 1993)

We would like to thank Mr. McKibben for reminding The Signal's readers that there are those who practice the use of only ONE communion cup when observing the Lord's Supper. We do however take issue with the statement that teaching practice constitutes error. He claims that by using only ONE communion cup we place an "Additional" emblem in the Lord's Supper. Notice with us a few things about this "additional" emblem and then judge for yourselves if it is error we teach.

First, notice the when, where, who and why of the practice of ONE communion cup. The Church of Christ began using ONE cup way back in the 1st Century - almost 2000 years ago! Plaese take your bill and read these yewitness accounts of this beginning before proceeding further into this article: Matt. 26:26-29, Mark 14:22-25, Luke 22:19-20. Thank you, we appreciate your reading these, but keep your remembrance of me, "first in Jerusalem and them. These passages show us the Lord giving the Apostles the memorial we call communion. The early Church did as Jesus requested when he said "This do in remembrance of me," first in Jerusalem and then in other citles as new congregations were established. Turn and read Acts 22:24 and Acts 20:7. The Apostle Paul Goundin recessary to explain in detail how communion was to be observed to one of these new congregations because they had deviated from the Lord's pattern. Turn and read 1 Cor. 10:16, 17, 21 and 11:23-30. From all these Scriptures, we see that the "additional" emblem, ONE communion cup, was added by Jesus Christ (WHO), in Jerusalem (WHERE), in the 1st Century (WHER). The Lord also provided a complete explanation of the WHY. This will take a few minutes, but please turn and read very carefully Hebrews 2:1 through 10:23, Again, we appreciate your willingness to read from your Bible. We understand now that the covenant cannot be separated from the blood of the searcifice which brough that testament into force. Remember from your reading that both Jesusand Pau

ONE, ANYWHERE, AT ANY TIME has ever occume in from naving taxen communion at a function Christ using ONE communion cup! We hope, dear reader, that you now know enough about the WHENs, WHENS, WHERS, WHOS and WHYs to understand that when you see "THIS DO in remembrance of/me," there will be only ONE communion cup in use. If you read through this article without your Bible at hand, we implore you to read carefully the Scriptures referenced. If you have more questions on this subject or any other Bible topic we stand prepared to help you find the answers in your Bible.

for your success in both these new jobs.

September is the tedious month of lecting new officers and organizing, meetings and lessons and projects we want to undertake in the following year. The fresh fall breezes drifting through the open door and window, brought in the scents and sounds we associate with autumn and also brought odors from the kitchen making us want to hurry this business along so we could get to the important part, sampling all the good things the smells promised.

All officers were shuffled about and elected promptly and every month was quickly filled with volunteers to host meetings and give lessons. Plans were made to attend area meetings which we will use as some of our outnings. We try to include at least one or two club outings a year. This way we can enjoy the beautiful scenery of Kentucky as we attend to the serious business of being "A Home-Makers Club.

Elect Robert H. "Bob"

Pulaski and Rockcastle Counties

On September 11th, I fulfilled my promise to you by running 25.5 miles, nanstop, from the Pulaski County Courthouse to the Rockcastle County Courthouse. I completed this Courthouse to Courthouse run in four hours, five minutes, averaging about nine minutes, 45 seconds per mile.

This run stands as a symbol to you of the dedication and hard work I will commit to the office of District Judge.

I am deeply grateful to all nunners and supporters who helped make this run such a success from start to finish, special thanks goes to Mr. Don Nims, a man whom I had not met before the day of the run, but who believed enough me and my cause, to run the entire 25.5 miles with me.

Now I am running a different sort of race—the race for District Judge of Pulaski and Rockcastle Counties. The winner of this race will be awarded not a medal, but a gavel.

On November 2nd, you will decide who can best serve as your District Judge. I hope, after listening to my message and looking at my record, you will decide that I am the one who will best serve you and that I am the one most worthy of receiving the gavel.

I have practiced law for the past 12 years in Pulaski, Rockcastle and surrounding counties. With 12 years of law sperience, I have practiced law three times longer than my opponent had before he was appointed District Judge.

As Directing Attorney of the Somerset office of Appalachian Research and Defense Fund of Kentucky/Inc. (Legal Septices), I supervise a law office and staff in providing legal assistance to poor and working class citizens in civil matters.

I have a strong sense of responsibility for the welfare of others and of our environment. For that reason, servit to the citizens of my community has always extended well beyond the doors of my office. I have a long history volunteering with local groups and organizations, such as Hospice and Habitat for Humanity, that are working to mall our community even better.

Burley officials to visit Cuba to discuss burley tobacco

Two burley officials from Kentucky departed, Sept. 21, with other farm leaders from across America for a four-day trip to Cuba.

This is a fact-finding mission, add John M. Berry Jr., president of the Burley Tobacco Growers Co-operative Association.

The Henry County attorney, farmer, and former state legislator expects the American delegation to meet not only with Cuban leaders in agriculture and trade, but also with Fidel Castro.

"We're looking for ways to assist

Fidel Castro.
"We're looking for ways to assist Cuba in making its transition to democracy, and in developing an affordable, sufficient, and sustainable agricultrue on the island," Berry We'll talk about what farmers can said.

We'll talk about what farmers can do in a democracy, and about what co-operatives can do, 'said Danny McKinney, who is the Burley Coop's CEO.

But McKinney, who is also a Rockcastle County farmer, explained, 'We're not going to teach Cubans how to grow tobacco.

The island's farmers have been major producers of tobacco, sugar, and coffee since the 1600's, though they do not raise burley tobacco.

Then came the Bay of Pigs. And the Cuban Missile Crisis.

Afterward, the U.S. government placed a total embarge on all trade with, and investments in, Cuba.

That U.S. embargo has lasted for over 30 years -- with Russia subsidiz-ing Cuba's farm programs until the more recent collapse of Soviet economics.

During part of this Russian era, "Cuba's agricultural productivity was a model for the world," McKinney said.

Without Communist-bloc funds, however, Castro's government cantoral ford many of its earlier programs, including those that moderntod the island sfarms.
Thus, Cuban farmers are interested in the U.S. tobacco programs, McKtimey said, because it has operated for decades without government substitles or sizeable losses.
So the Americans heading to Havana do expect change in U.S.-Cuban relationships. And if it happens, the company of th rather than operations that rely heav-ily upon migrant laborers.

Bike-A-Thon was successful

Over $4,400 was pledged in the 10th annual Bike-A-Thon held at Brodhead Saturday. Over a ten-year period, the local organization has sent over $40,000 to the national Cystic Fibrosis Foundation for research to find a cure for the disease. Two participants Saturday were, at left, Bobby Proctor, whose wife Clara heads up the local event and whose granddaughter, Suzanne, 9, is a victim of the disease and Brandon Durham, 5.

C.R.A.M.I. meeting held Sept. 20

On Sept. 20, the Cumberland River A.M.I. held it's monthly meeting in the community room in the Mt. Vecton Manor Angartements. We need to thank Tammy Thomas for giving us the uses. A great big thank you Tammy. The September meeting was a good meeting. Our guest speaker is the one that made it so great. Jerry Fish, the Cumberland River A.M.I. would like to say a great big thank you to you. Jerry Fish spoke on stress and how he handled it. What made Mr. Fish's speech so special is that it came from him, not a textbook. It was a heart felt speech. Mr. Fish, thank you also for all the singseched. Mr. Fish's thank you also for all the input that you put into our meeting and for all the suggestions that you had. We talked mostly about the Candle Light yigil besides the lighting of candles. I know that there will be a lot of things going on Oct. 9 but I just would like to say to the public that since you will be in town already why not stay and share this very special sevent with the Cumberland Rive

A.M.I. Now most of you that read my ad in the paper think that we are pan of Comp. Care, well that "sin't true. We are a support group for the public. We don't close our doors to anyone. we teach you the public of mental itlness. We give you a shoulder to cryon or or just someone to lean on whichever one you need.

Sue Bennet College Dragon football recruits two locals

Two Mt. Vernon brothers are making history at Sue Bennett College. They are part of the colleges new football program and are helping lead their team through a challenging first season. Joseph and William Ramsey will take the field for the Dragons this fall against such tough competitors as Tusculum College and Tennessee Tusculum College and Tennessee Wesleyan. William, a freshman pre-law major; played football for the Rockeastle County Rockets and was named offensive lineman of the year in '92. Joseph, a physical education major, ran track and played football for the Rockets.

The Sue Bennett College football season opens at home against Bethel College on Saturday, September 18 at 130 pm. Until the new field is completed, all home garnes will be played at the Lyynn Camp High School field near Corbin.

The Bike-A-Thon By: Presion Parrett

A half mile course was blocked off With volunteers helping the traffic

They had a fuel supply depot Where the riders stopped for eats

Poet's Corner

A lot of riders turned out And there weere big and little bikes, Being rode around the track By big kids and little tykes.

Was wearing number four, And everytime she'd go around She'd stop and check her mileage Around the course the bikers rode As they kept up their pace, And if one slowed down He got behind in his race.

It was a beautiful Saturday afternoon A tinge of fall was in the air, And in the town of Brodhead A Bike-a-Thon was going on there.

Clara Proctor was the chairperson And she'd planned hard and long, To get people and things in place So that nothing would go wrong.

Thank You!

Hello, my name is Robin Mullins. Recently, I had the opportunity to travel to New York for the All American Boy and Girl National Pageant Competition, but only because I had so much support down home.

I returned to Kentucky as 4th runner-up in the talent division, a beauty finalist, and received a special awardforthe prettiest smile. I guess you southerners must be doing something right down here because Kentucky blew them away in old New York!

My sincerest thanks goes out to these businesses for truly believing that I could accomplish anything...

Thank you Rockcastle businesses for supporting a "homegrown country girl!"
