Fiscal Court in another lawsuit

The Rockcastle County Fiscal to Cameron. Cameron.

Court is involved in yet and in the did not receive nearly $9,000 he was owed for work on the Rockeastle County Detention Center.

Mike Cameron, owner of Cameron Construction, says that the Rockeastle Fiscal Court paid an invoice owed for Rockeastle Ready Mix twice and that the court took the second payment from an amount owed to Cameron.

Cameron's automey, John Cloniz, said that Cameron had tried unsucessfully for sometime to resolve the matter and get his money, but his requests fell on deaf ears each time.

According to Ready Mix's anwere to the suit, they claim that the fiscal court owed them other monies on the project and that they simply applied the payment to the court's balance.

Rockcastle County Attorney Jeff Burdette said that other charges are likely to be filed in the case, but that apparently alcohol or drugs were in-volved.

"I've been here 24 years and I have never seen anything like it - you have to wonder what he was thinking," Settles said.

Gas prices stay basically same in Rockcastle

The tragedy in New York and Washington, D.C. are being used as an excuse to raise gas prices across the United States and in Kentucky, but in Rockeastle County, only a few stations raised pricts on Tuesday Marvin Mink, owner of Town and Country Chevron in M. Vernon said he did not understand any increase at this time because he had bought gas three times since the bombings from his wholesaler and that the price had remained the same. His regular gas is St.41 a gallon, which is lower than most, if not all stations in Rockeastle.

Fiscal Court discusses garbage ordinance again

By: Richard Anderkin
The question of garbage collection in Rockcastle County was on the minds of the Rockcastle Fiscal Court on Tuesday on Tuesday.

Rockastle County Attorney Jeff Burdette told the court that the county needed to make a decision on whether to revamp the current garbage ordinance or scrap it and start over.
Burdette said that it was his understanding that some people were doing business in the county without permits.

Carlotis said that he was in favor of working on a new ordinance, but that the fiscal court had several options they should consider before coming up with a new ordinance.

One company, which the court turned down for apermit on two sepa-rate occassions has apparently star-ing renting dumpsters in the county anyway.

Carloftis and Solid Waste Coor-dinator Don Coyle said that M & M Sanitation, a division of Republic months although the court had not given their permission. Burdette said that he needed some guidance from the court as to what to gudance from the court as to what to do about the situation.

"I urge the fiscal court to revise the garbage ordinance, or adopt a new one to facilitate a more effective en-forcement," Burdette said.

Carloftis, who has always been a proponent of mandatory garbage coll-tection, said it was the responsibility of the court to provide such an ordi-nance, which would create a devel playing field for everyone involved and result in the cheapest proice and best service for the citizens of the county.

best service for the citizens of the county.

"As it is, the permitting requirements of the current ordinance are basically a farce since unpermitted haulers and dumpsters are in the county," Burdette said.

"Some are contracting illegally with businesses, since they are not in compliance with the current county ordinance and we need to keep prices low, allow to keep prices low, allow competition, without jeopardizing customers from picking the hauler," Burdene said.

"I think this can be done by requiring a permit and granting a permit once all conditions are met, including insurance coverages, proper equipment, dump stations and recycling guidelines," he said.

"The court has pledged to rewrite the ordinance for two years and the time is now while Don Coyle is reviewing the whole situation," he said.

The court did not direct Burdette as what to do at the current time, but they did discuss forming a committee to come up with a solution to the problem.

War?

Today has been another day that will be etched on my memory like the one on December 7, 1941 when Japan misjudged the ability and strength of boys made into men by fighing for a country they loved.

The U.S.A. was only 150 years old when Japan, with her well-trained army, navy and air force, slipped into Pearl Harbor, Hawaii and blew up the ships belonging to the U.S. Navy anchored there. "That Day of Infamy" has been remembered as one of the worst in American history. Now we have another. It must have surprised the Japa-

The four women had known each The four women had known each other for years. As they sat at hunch one day, they talked about the lack of time in their lives. "I know I need to exercise." Susie said, "but I just can't find the time: " (All characters are fictitious). "I wish I could spend more time with my husband." Janie added. "We haven't had a night away from the kids in years!"

haven't had a night away from the kds vears! The cold find the time." Margarel I local find the time." Margarel chimed in, "I would read and mediate every day, I used to do that, and I felt so good when I did." It wouldn't matter to me what I did with the time." Helen said, "I would just like to find the time to do something for myself. It seems that all I do is take care of other people! Why can't lind time to do something for me?"

Why can't I find time to do something for me?"

These women are not the only mes who have bemoaned the lack of time to do what they want. A similar discussion has taken place many times among other groups.

Although they complained about the lack of time, these four women were not able to come up with any ideas for finding more time. They left their luncheon still having the same problem as when they came: not enough time to enough time.

left their luncheon still having the same problem as when they came: not enough time. Could it be that they are "barking up the wrong tree?" Will they ever be able to find more time? No, they will never find any extra time. In fact looking for more time is what is keep-ing them. From finding a solution. They are blessed with the same amount of time as everyone else, wenty-four hours per day. No mat-ter how hard they look, they will never find another hour or even an-other second to add to their day. The country of the same and the them whist? Each of the will have to make the time to do what is im-torant to them. Each will have to carve a chunk of time out of her busy schedule. The time will not magi-cally appear; it must be made. The key to carving time from a busy schedule is priorities, priorities and priorities. What is most impor-tant to each of these women? Exer-cise, family time and quiet time are at the top of their lists. Each of them will have to give up some other activity to make tim for her priority. This truth became obvious to me again in a class that I teach. Each participant made time for the weekly meeting of that class for a month. These people, with their hectic schedules, carved two-and-a-half hours out of each Tuesday night.

They wanted to do it, and they made it happen. At the end of the class, I encouraged them to keep some of that time available for themselves. These class members had proven that time class members had proven that time can be made.

One thing that helped them make the time for class was the compiliment they had made to other people to be there. Making time for exercise may be easier if there is a friend involved. If Sussier signed is waiting for her for go walking, Sussie is more likely to go than if she is the only one involved.

Another important part of making time is learning to say "No." To have time for what is important, I must say "no" to what is not as high on my priority list.

In Loving Memory

Maud Hammock
on your birthday, September 13
We do not need a special day to bring you to our minds.
The days we do not think of you are very hard to find:
Each morning when we awake we know that you are gone.
And no one knows the heartache as

know that you are gone.
And no one knows the heartache as we try to carry on.
Our hearts still ache with sadness and tears still flow.
Mail in meant to love you, no one
And the meant to love you, no one
Our thoughts are always with you your place no one can fill In life we loved you dearly: in death we love you still.
There will always be a heartache and so many tears.
But always a precious memory of the days when you were here:
If heartaches could make a staircase tears would make a staircase e would walk the path to Heaven and bring you home again:

"What Saith the Scriptures'

"What Saith the Scriptures"

Paul in 1 Tim 6-6-8 says, "But godliness with contentment is great gain. For we brought .othing into this world, and it is certain we can carry mothing out. And having food and ratiented let a be therevith content." One of the great dangers living in the USA is the problem of materialism and discontentment. It seems we have so many that are so discontent, unhappy, dissatisfied about the life they live. We are like the proverbial horse that its tript to get that carrot, that is dangling out in front of it, but never able to reach it. If we could ever learn the lesson that Paul speaks about in our text, that having food and clothes let us therewith be content. Contentment would carry the idea of. Satisfaction, sufficiency, peace of indin, happiness, serenity, tranquillity, be enough. Living in a land of plenty, we never seem to have enough. We are always wanting more, more, and are not happy with want we do have. "Let your conversation (conduct, NEM) be without covetousness; and be content with such things as ye have; for he that said, I will never leave thee, nor forsake thee." Heb 13:5. Let us take note, that we came with absolutely tofting, add we will leave this world with absolutely nothing. If we can receptant Tobbe godly, and have contentment, we shall be rich spiritually. When will ever learn???

Crab Orchard, KY September 23-28 Sun. 10 A.M. & 6 P.M. 7:30 P.M. M-F

Preaching by Greg Sharp

The church of Christ cordially invites you to be their honored guest

Building is located 1/4 mi. W. of Crab Orchard On Hwy. 150.

Businesses are a growing part of our electric cooperative

When we started looking for a place to build our factory, we focused on two things: quality of life for our people, and plenty of electric power.

We love the area. And our electric company? No problem! They're a co-op and are part of Touchstone Energy a nationwide group of more than 500 electric co-ops. Our co-op was able to deliver us the power we needed. And we're actually members, with a say in how things are run. So we built our business ... and our people get to live here.

Pg_BS The Mt. Vernon Signal Thu Elizabeth Leann Wilson I was there with your mother Thru labor that ended in birth A treasure straight from heaven Blessed by having you on Earth.

So tiny and really a beauty Our world never to be the same Our hearts loved this cutie Now if was time to find a name.

It had to be something special We knew right from the start Not another Jane or even Milly It had to come from the heart.

Elizabeth after your grandmother A name that was given to a queen It made her so very happy Her pride by all was easily seen.

Lee was after your gentle Dad An honor usually given to a son But your beautiful niece Our hearts you'd surely won.

It seemed to need something more This baby made for hugs and kissing Thinking really hard and so fast I knew it was part of me that was

Your mom smiled and did agree Ann was added to the very end Now it was complete, this name More than a sister, your mom was my friend.
