Mount Vernon firefighter Adam Bales attacked the flames of this apparently abandoned car in the northbound emergency lane of I-75 Tuesday afternoon just inside the Rockcastle County Line. Fire Chief David Bales said the owner of the car is unknown at this time since the tags were destroyed. Bales said it is suspected the fire started from a broken gas line. The Livingston Fire Department assisted at the scene.

Mayors, Bishop give State of the Cities/County

By: Mike French

The annual Rockcastle County Chamber of Commerce State of the Cities/ County luncheon was held Tuesday at Community Trust Bank in Mount Vernon. The conference room was filled to standing room as all three local Mayors and the county Judge/ Executive spoke to members of the community about their administratyions.

Introduced by Chamber president Steve McKinney, each speaker addressed their specific areas growth and challenges faced over the past year.

First to speak was Mount Vernon Mayor Mike Bryant who summarized the city's many accomplishments in

According to a report from the Mount Vernon Police Department, Donnie Jones, 41, address unknown, was arrested last Friday after police attempted to serve a warrant. The report says when police found Jones on Cass Street, he ran into the woods and was later found hiding.

Upon ordering Jones to show his hands, the report said he refused and resisted

Upon searching Jones, police say they discovered an expandable baton and a contact lens case containing a liquid and pieces of a cigarette filter that tested positive for methamphetamine and a glass meth pipe with a white chemical residue.

The report said once Jones was booked in the jail he was asked if he had anything else on him and Jones replied "no."

However, once Jones was searched inside the jail, the report said officers found a used hypodermic needle.

Jones was charged with Fleeing or Evading Police, first degree, Resisting Ar-

Moving Wall Memorial coming to Rockcastle County in August

By: Mike French

"All we wanted was for someone to say 'welcome home'. But it never happened," said Rockcastle County American Legion Post 71 Commander Tommy Hodges. When Vietnam vets returned home, instead of a welcoming ceremony, many were met with angry mobs who chastised and spit at them.

The political environment from 1959 to 1975 had changed dramatically and protests against the war became focused on the returning veterans instead of the politicians who kept it going. Veterans were used as scapegoats and blamed for a war they were drafted into. The Moving Wall is part of a national company which has created halfsized, exact replicas of the Vietnam Veteran's Memorial in Washington D.C. That wall is coming to Rockcastle County on August 22 and

Aces Over

By Mike French

As a society, we often glaze over uncomfortable things. We nod and change the subject and avoid some conversations all together. There are just some things that are uncomfortable to discuss with loved ones and almost impossible to talk about in front of strangers.

After all, people do judge. We aren't supposed to and even though we are indeed supposed to point out sin to others, we are supposed to do it to help them see it themselves. Not to condemn them or judge them in any way but to help them with a loving heart.

If you have done something wrong or made a mistake or been weak in some way, you don't want to announce it to the world. None of us do. It becomes a little secret that only a few people are aware of.

I have several of those. Little secrets that I believe aren't anyone else's business. If my little secrets got out, some would judge, some would condemn, some would applaud.

However, there is one dirty little secret that I think we as a society need to begin addressing out in the open. Even if it hurts to say it out loud, and we know we will be judged by it, this one subject needs to be out in the open in my humble opinion.

Drug abuse.

When we discover it in our families, parents keep it quiet so as not to damage the reputation of their child. And who can blame them for that? No one. A parent's number one job is to protect their child.

So once it is discovered by a relative or a friend, we hide it. Sweep it under the rug and smile at the neighbors on the outside while. aching on the inside.

This is what I would do as well. I don't think I could bring myself to announce it to the world if one of my kids had a drug problem. But I am beginning to think I would be wrong to keep it hidden.

The problem is epidemic and sweeping our country. Drug-related deaths are everywhere and growing constantly. Children's lives are being destroyed when they or their parents are involved with drug abuse.

Perhaps one of the reasons it is so rampant is because we keep it so quiet and make it our dirty little secret.

Maybe if we didn't hide it and simply admitted that our own family, like millions of others, have been touched by the devil, it would be more open and kids would be more warned of its venom.

If obituaries read "Died of a drug overdose" instead of "sudden illness," people would see how often it happens even to your neigh-

There really isn't a reason to be embarrassed about it. Doctors, lawyers, police officers, billionaires, nurses, teachers, judges, reporters, preachers, senators, actors, painters and everyone else are not immune form drug addiction.

It doesn't only happen to "bad" families or "bad" parents or poor people. It doesn't only hit people who "had it coming" or families who "look like drug addicts."

It happens in every class of life, in every race, every religion, and the smartest,

Dear Journal,

Points East

By Ike Adams

I can't recall the last time I enjoyed an impromptu visit more than the one I had with Jimmy and Georgie Caudill last Friday.

Long time readers of the column may recall that, over the years, my childhood friend, the late Truman Caudill often made it into the paper when I was sitting around with sweet home, Blair Branch waxing nostalgic on my mind. Jimmy and Georgie are Truman's boys. They may take exception to being called "boys" because, if my math is correct, they are both on the north side of 40. And Gerorgie usually goes by George these days. He was "Georgie" growing up because both boys pretty much lived there on Blair Branch with their grandparents, George and Lydia Caudill.

I hadn't seen either one of them in nearly 20 years but we have, more or less, stayed in touch and kept up with one another via email, facebook and infrequent telephone calls. And that's a shame, really, because Jimmy lives in southern Lincoln County less than 30 miles from my place. Georgie, on the other hand, lives wherever he is at the moment which can usually be narrowed down to somewhere east of the Mississippi River.

Georgie, like his father, is a long haul truck jockey who spends most of his time on the road. Jimmy, like his dad, is musically inclined and skinny as a fence rail while Gerorgieis built like a pro wrestler. I'm assuming Georgie's physical features come from his mother's side of the family because he certainly didn't get them from Truman.

Anyway, the boys and I spent most of the day hanging out on the front porch sipping coffee and soft drinks and trying to see who could tell the tallest tale. I've never met anyone who could get ahead of Truman Caudill in that department but his boys could, and probably did give him a run for his money. Suffice to say that I'm not in their league. And their visit was like getting a double dose of Truman.

I managed to get a few laughs when I regaled them with tales about their father who once got a new Schwinn Racer bicycle for Christmas. Truman rode the sleek but too-flimsyfor-Blair Branch bike off the mountain and down the

March Madness is approaching

I can't begin to tell you how excited I am that "March Madness" is back! Ever since 1959 when I was the manager of the Mt. Vernon High School (MVHS) Red Devil basketball team, I have been hooked on high school and college "hoops." After I got my driver's license, I don't think I missed a single MVHS basketball game, whether it was at home or away. If it was an away game, my '58 Chevy was filled with students wanting to see the game as much as I did.

When I entered the University of Kentucky in 1962, the students could attend all home "Wildcat" games, and I thought I was the luckiest guy on campus. My friends and I never missed a home game.

In those days, players like "Cotton" Nash, Charles "Chili" Ishmael (from Mt. Sterling), Ted Deeken, Terry Mobley, Tom Harper (from Winchester), Scotty Baesler, John Adams, and others were in the news as starters or players who got playing time under the Baron, Adolph Rupp. Of course, much of the attention was bestowed on Nash because he was named All SEC and All American. As a freshman, I was among their greatest fans. It was so cool to be able to attend every home game.

Over the years after my college graduation, I became friends with three of the 1962 UK basketball team members (Nash -Ishmael - Harper). Because I was the head baseball coach at George Rogers Clark (Clark County) in the 1980's, we played many of the Lexington schools. Cotton Nash attended many of those games, and we had ample time to discuss our college experiences. He is also a friend of Dutch Ishmael, who owns Dutch's Ford and Dutch's Chevrolet in Mt. Sterling. Dutch and I have been friends for many years, and I occasionally run into Cotton while visiting or patronizing Dutch and his "team" at the dealership. Dutch played football for UK and was very successful.

When I was teaching and coaching at George Rogers Clark in Winchester, I also became acquainted with Tom Harper, who played high school basketball for Clark County. Tom attended many GRC games and often visited with the coaching staff.

In 1968, I accepted a teaching position at Mt. Sterling High School (MSHS) and became Chili's assistant football coach. I had served as an" assistant under head football Coach Vince Hancock while teaching at Campbellsville School. Chili and I became close friends while teaching and coaching together at MSHS. He was one of the most talented high school coaches at that time. He took several teams to the state playoffs while at MSHS. The year that I loved most was 1969, when we took the Mt. Sterling Trojan football team to the state playoffs and then defeated Bardstown High School on UK's Stoll Field on Thanksgiving Day in order to win the Class "A" State Championship. That year will always remain my

Thank your. Dear Editor, Signor and sens

On Saturday, March 6th, I went to the Elementary School and unfortunately when I started to climb the steps leading up to the gym, I lost my balance and fell sideways to the left causing me to smash my head into the concrete step. The force of the fall, caused me to flip over on my back, leaving me on the pavement. I would like to thank the gentlemen who came to my aid and helped me. I am sorry I did not get their names but I want to personally thank not only them, but the three nurses who came to my aid after I entered the gym. The only name I can remember is Rachel Wallen. Upon arriving in the ER, Dr. Hamilton and the hospital staff gave me excellent care, and I want to thank all of them too. As well I want to thank White House Clinic and the Eye Doctors for my follow up care. I am from the big city of Cincinnati, having lived there for over 20 years. Everything was hustle, bustle, and you hardly knew any one other than your immediate neighbor or classmates and friends at church. When I had an accident at the age of 30, I came to live with my brother and his family, until I was able to go back to work. They worked with me two years, helping me to get on my feet and start living again!

I must say that I was very upset to be living out in the country (Brodhead) and I was shocked there was cows, in our back yard!

richest most Christian family on earth is not immune. Maybe if we were more open about it as a society and could say "Yes, neighbor, I know we were in church Sunday and I know I coach kids' sports, and I know I wear a suit and tie, lem. It's in this neighborhood too. Please watch your children and protect them." people could be more aware of the issue. Instead of believing drugs could never come to their family or their neighborhood, maybe if they were made aware that it is right next door, they could be more observant and prepared.

And now the rub. There is an unfortunate stigma attached to any family who has a loved one with a drug addiction. No one in society would look down at them if someone in their family had the flu. Yet if there is an addiction problem, they must be thugs.

It's a false narrative and it has caused us to hide it and keep others from being aware of how drugs are saturating our society.

Being a hypocrite on the matter, I can't blame anyone more than myself. I, too, would probably hide it because of the stigma involved that I would not want placed on my family. But somehow, we need to find a way past that stigma. We need to find a way to accept the total saturation of the evil known as drugs.

One thing I know for certain, if you have no one in your family and no friends touched by drug abuse, you have no idea how blessed you are. Drugs are in places that people would never imagine and it has been estimated that 92% of American families have in some way been touched by drug abuse.

If you have never known anyone with a drug problem, you are in a massive minority group. Here's hoping we learn to talk about it more openly and stop blaming and judging and condemning. That's the drug war we need to fight. The one in ourselves. The quiet one.

holler nearly 2 miles to school every morning. Very little, if any pedaling was required because the elevation getting to school was down hill all the way except for a couple of places where the road went through the creek.

In other words, Truman had a practically effortless, other than keeping his balance, ride to school every morning. He would whiz right by us lesser mortals as we trudged through dust or mud, depending on the weather. Then, when school was out for the day, Truman would have the rest of us practically fighting over the privilege of pushing that bi-weather. The chemo and radiation had damaged my blood and caused me to freeze. Add that to the already cold winter and sometimes I was sure I was going to freeze to death.

Although I'm still weak and cold, I'm slowly doing better. I couldn't be improving at a better time. Spring is traditionally a time when people get recharged and want to do spring cleaning, do some gardening and landscaping, or painting. I'm so excited to begin on some of these projects since it seems my life has been put on hold for almost two years. I can hardly wait to see the new leaves on the trees, the butterflies, and feel the warm spring breezes. Spring and I will be "busting out all over", so to cycle back up the holler. Tom Sawyer didn't have a thing on Truman Caudill.

The boys shared numerous tales about their grandfather and my dad who were very close, if not absolutely, best friends to each other.

They told of Dad taking George to town one spring to buy a new, 8hp front-tine roto-tiller. Dad, who had always plowed the Caudills' garden with a horse or mule, was without a draft animal at the time and George had convinced him that a new tiller was just the thing, plus you didn't have to feed and Chili and I have been friends since 1968, and I consider him to be one of the most talented coaches I have ever known. He was one of those guys who did not take all of the credit, but allowed the other coaches and players to also revel in the limelight of the coaching/playing experience. It is so much fun to discuss those games and players with Chili. I will always be thankful that I was allowed to be part of that exciting experience.

DAR state officer special guest at meeting

KSDAR State Registrar, Myra Evans was the guest speaker at the March meeting of the Rockcastle Chapter DAR. Her presentation was on four Kentucky nurses who were held prisoners of war by the Japanese during World War II. Nurses Earleen Allen (Bardswell), Sallie Phillips Durrett (Louisville), Mary Jo Oberst, (Owensboro) and Edith Shacklette (Cedarflat) were part of what would be called the Angels of Bataan (also known as the "Angels of Bataan and Corregidor" and "The Battling Belles of Bataan"). They were the members of the United States Army Nurse Corps and the United States Navy Nurse Corps who were stationed in the Philippines at the outset of the Pacific War and served during the Battle of the Philippines (1941–42). When Bataan and Corregidor fell, 81 nurses were captured and imprisoned in and around Manila. They continued to serve as a nursing unit throughout their status as prisoners of war for 33 months. After years of hardship, they were finally liberated in February 1945. Pictured above: KSDAR State Registrar, Myra Evans and Rockcastle Regent, Debbie Brown.

Camp Wildcat needs volunteers

⁶ Each year Civil War battlefields across the United States seek volunteers to help clean up and fix up their battlefields prior to the onrush of the summer tourism season.

On April 2, 2016, people will come together to participate in the 20th annual Park Day. Camp Wildcat near the Laurel County-Rockcastle County line is one of those sites.

Needs at Camp Wildcat include picking up trash, cleaning the restrooms, spreading lime and fertilizer on the grass around the main parking lot and scattering wood chips along a short trail and more.

Refreshments will be provided free of charge and each volunteer will receive a free t-shirt and each boy scout will receive a book on the Battle of Wildcat Mountain and a

At approximately noon, there will be a guest historical speaker, M. C. Edwards, vice president and Historian for the Camp Wildcat Preservation Foundation. He will speak on Colonel Theophilus Garrard and the Battle of Camp

So, on Saturday, April 2, come on out to Wildcat mountain. Help with some easy work and learn some history about our area and have a lot of fun.

A Homemade System of Values

By Howard Coop

Memories often take me back to the old house on the north side of Hegira Road in the southeast corner of Cumberland County where I spent my childhood and youth.

As I approached that old house, I stepped on to the front porch, and to my right, there was a swing painted green. Homemade by my father, it was designed so well that he made and sold several of them to neighbors. To my left, a matching bench built to seat two sat in front of the window. It, too, was painted green and homemade by my father.

Then, inside the house, the floors were clean. They were swept regularly with a homemade broom made by my father. During the dark days of the Great Depression, he raised broomcorn and made brooms, some to use in the house and others to sell to neigh-

The shirt I wore was homemade by my mother, and the gloves I had in my pocket were knifted by her from cotton grown in a patch near the house. Everywhere I looked in that old house, I saw something that was homemade. The dictionary defines homemade as "made...at home; hence, plain; simple." That aptly describes a number of things in the old house I

But there was something more that was homemade in that old house. One of my first memories is vivid; a loving mother reminded me that, under all conditions, I was to say "please" and "thank you" whenever I wanted something or was given something. And good parents taught me what, they thought, was right and wrong; therefore before I started school, I was given a homemade system of moral values to guide me through life.

The mind of a child is impressionable, and the first persons to make an impression on that mind are parents. What they give the child in those early years is most important, for it becomes a homemade system of moral values that guides that child through life."

Enrollment Period for 2016 USDA Safety Net Coverage Ends Aug. 1

USDA's Farm Service Agency (FSA) has announced that producers who chose coverage from the safety net programs established by the 2014 Farm Bill, known as the Agriculture Risk Coverage (ARC) or the Price Loss Coverage (PLC) programs, can visit FSA county offices through Aug. 1, 2016, to sign contracts to enroll in coverage for 2016.

Although the choice between ARC and PLC is completed and remains in effect through 2018, producers must still enroll their farm by signing a contract each year to receive cover-

Producers are encouraged to contact their local FSA office to schedule an appointment to enroll. If a farm is not enrolled during the 2016 enrollment period, producers on that farm will not be eligible for financial assistance from the ARC or PLC programs should crop prices or farm revenues fall below the historical price or revenue benchmarks established by the program.

The two programs were authorized by the 2014 Farm Bill and offer a safety net to agricultural producers when there is a substantial drop in prices or revenues for covered commodities. Covered commodities include barley, canola, large and small chickpeas, corn, crambe, flaxseed, grain sorghum, lentils, mustard seed, oats, peanuts, dry peas, rapeseed, long grain rice, medium grain rice (which includes short grain and sweet rice), safflower seed, sesame, soybeans, sunflower seed and wheat. Upland cotton is no longer a covered commodity. For more details regarding these programs, go to www.fsa.usda.gov/arc-plc.

For more information, producers are encouraged to visit their local FSA office. To find a local FSA office, visit http://offices.usda.gov. Youth Loans

The Farm Service Agency makes loans to youth to establish and operate agricultural income-producing projects in connection with 4-H clubs, FFA and other agricultural groups. Projects must be planned and operated with the help of the organization advisor, produce sufficient income to repay the loan and pro-vide the youth with practical business and educational experience. The maximum loan amount is $5000.

The award is based on achievements in the UNITE program including drug awareness pro-

At RCMS, there are 133 student members of the UNITE Club and Varney said the club has many on-going drug awareness and prevention programs and sponsors a strong drug prevention speaker/ singer for a school wide assembly.

Varney also said the RCMS members participated in the annual "Wipe Out Drugs" toilet paper drive during the UNITE Bowl football game which benefits several treatment facilities.

'In addition, these kids continued community projects such as 'Pennies for Patients' at the local hospital, conducted a food drive for the local mission, and raised funds for the food pantry through the 'Hunger Walks'," he said.

Varney also said the group created public service announcements for "Pinwheels for Prevention" and organized a variety of Red Ribbon Week

The RCHS UNITE Club also has many successful programs. In fact, Varney said the local club has received national attention. "Many of the club's successful programs were showcased to national leaders, first through students invited to participate in a roundtable discussion with Office of National Drug Control Policy Director Michael Botticelli and Fifth District Congressman Hal Rogers and second, when the school hosted Botticelli, Rogers and Corporation for National and Community Service CEO Wendy Spencer to showcase UNITE's 'On The Move' drug prevention initiative," he said.

The club participated in a number of community outreach/mentoring activities, including a trip to Mount Vernon Elementary School, to discuss the dangers of drug abuse, and holding a Red Balloon Memorial launch and annual "Wipe Out Drugs" toilet paper drive for treatment facilities.

The club members also discuss drug-related issued on local radio stations and teach elementary school students good decision-making skills.

"The club members give anti-bullying tips, promote honesty and courtesy through their 'Rocket Readers' program and hosted six speakers for school assemblies," said Varney.

Rockcastle County School Superintendent David Pensol said the clubs are a help in many

"It's not only the schools that benefit from these clubs. The entire community is effected. We are very proud of our UNITE Club members and Nancy Hale is doing an amazing job as President and CEO of our clubs," said Pensol.

Cash mentioned the new sewer project underway in Brodhead and commended the Brodhead Fire Department for their outstanding work through this year's winter storms.

He also said that he only discovered recently that $12,000 is available to the City of Brodhead each year, from the fiscal court's general fund, as program support for city projects. "This is going to be a big help to our budget," he said.

Cash also thanked Community Trust Bank for donating property to the City of Brodhead.

The third speaker was Livingston Mayor Jason Medley who cited many projects in the city over the past year.

"We have a good relationship with the other mayors and the fiscal court and working together has made a difference in our community," said Medley.

Medley mentioned Livingston's designation as a Kentucky Proud Town, the depot renovations and the many news businesses that have started in Livingston over the past

"I am a firm believer in positive energy. Get the negative out and let the positive show through," he

Medley also talked about the recently completed sidewalk project and told the crowd that he has now found a cable company willing to bring cable into Livingston.

One of the biggest accomplishments of the town, according to Medley, is its fight against drugs. "I had someone call me recently and say to me, 'man, you just can't buy dope in Livingston anymore.' Now that is something we are proud of," Medley said.

In fact, Medley mentioned the "Celebrate Recovery" program held every Friday night at the old school building.

The mayor also discussed some grants the city project he expects to begin.

"Did you know that water treatment does get bacteria and other things out of the water before it is pumped into the river, but that it does not remove drugs or birth control pills?" Medley asked te crowd.

He said the current water treatment plant is able to treat 40,000 gallons of water per day but that after a rain, it is treating nearly 200,000 gallons. "We are treating rainwater because of our sewer system. And we are letting this water into the river. We have fish on birth control in our river," he

According to Medley this is causing a great reduction in the fish which is causing less birds and is affecting the entire ecosystem.

"I want an entirely different system. I don't want to pump water into the river and we are going to approach this subject," he said.

Medley also said he is proud of the projects the other mayors have done in their own cities.

The final speaker was Rockcastle County Judge/ Executive Doug Bishop.

Bishop said he and the mayors have worked very well together and expressed his appreciation for everyone who helped their neighbor during the recent winter

Bishop also addressed the drug problem in the

"I promised I would be open and honest with everyone and I must say, we have a wonderful and strong county but all is not well. Our jail is full constantly and over 85% of those incarcerated are drug-related crimes. We have a lot of families in trouble and though we have a lot of unemployed people, we also have a lot of jobs available. When people can't pass a drug test or are unwilling to work or can make more by staying home than getting a job, things need to change," said Bishop. "We have to quit pandering and giving other volunteers, it will be on display here.

Though there are copies of the Moving Wall, the one coming to Rockcastle County is the original one built and that is by design. "We worked for three years to get this wall to come to our county and we wanted the original one," said Hodges.

The "Moving Wall Company" who built the wall and delivers it to communities across the nation has very specific guidelines about how the wall is to be handled and the effort to have the wall visit Mount Vernon has been a long one. "There is a tremendous amount of preparation and planning that has gone into this effort. But it is well worth it," said Hodges. "This is not about me or us or we or any group. It's about everyone and showing respect and honor to those who are Vietnam veterans and Vietnam era veterans." The event will include an opening ceremony and The Wall is expected to be located behind the Country Music Hall of Fame in Renfro Valley. Local veterans volunteered to erect the wall once it arrives and, according to Hodges, they handle the wall much like the American flag. With a gentle touch and a somber approach, veterans will be assembling the memorial containing the names of their fallen compatriots.

The 253 foot long moving wall will be displayed for five days and the opening ceremony is expected to be held on Thursday, August 18 at 6 p.m.

Hodges said though the site will be open 24 hours per day, there will be volunteers on hand to help from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. each day. These volunteers will hand out brochures and help visitors find particular names on the wall. The cost of just getting the Wall here is $5,000. Plus there are lots of other expenses involved such as advertising to inform the public, security, preparations, and many others. Hodges said bringing the wall to this county would not have been possible without the Fiscal Court and the Rockcastle County Tourism Commission and many others. "This is a communitywide effort and everyone is working together to make it happen," he said.

Susan Tomes, Director of the Rockcastle County Tourism Commission said she is pleased to be involved with the event. "We are so proud to be a part of this. It's a really big deal and means so much to so many," she said.

The Rockcastle County Fiscal Court donated $2,500 for the deposit to begin the process of getting the Moving Wall here. "Now, we just have to raise the rest of the funds needed," said Hodges.

The Moving Wall, containing 58,267 names of fallen soldiers in Vietnam, includes six names from Rockcastle County

Hodges said he knows this event will impact many people. "It's all for the honor and respect of fallen soldiers and veterans. People will have the chance to express their compassion and caring for those who never received a hero's welcome. There will be no vendors or other outside distractions. This is not a party. It's a very serious event" he said.

Any individual, organization or business interested in helping with the event by donating materials or time, should contact the Tourism Commission at (606) 256-9814. Anyone interested in donating money should make a check out to the American Legion Post 71 and mail to: American Legion Post 71, P.O. Box 68, Mount Vernon, Kentucky 40456.

"Vietnam veterans are finally getting the respect they deserve and we encourage everyone to come by and pay their respects while the moving wall is in our town," said Hodges.

And to every vet, welcome home.

Avery Bradshaw to perform at upcoming Arnow Conference

By Dan Fishback, SCC student

Take a walk across the campus of Somerset Community College and you may encounter Avery Bradshaw. Odds are, however, that you will pass the unassuming nineteen-yearold student without taking notice.

If you were to find yourself in Renfro Valley's Old Barn Theater on a Thursday, Friday or Saturday evening, though, Bradshaw's presence would be difficult to ignore. The college freshman is a featured performer, specializing in the banjo, at the entertainment center in Mount Vernon.

Bradshaw began taking banjo lessons at age nine and has been honing his craft on stage since he was fourteen.

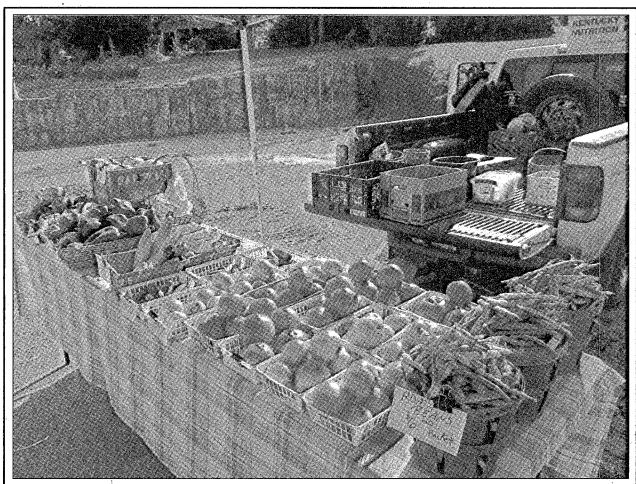

"The banjo is my niche," he says. "I took lessons for about a year and the rest I've picked up along the way."

Bradshaw will be performing at SCC on April 1, as lunchtime entertainment at the Arnow Conference on Appalachian Literature and Culture. The conference, which honors celebrated novelist Harriette Simpson Arnow, brings together writers, scholars, academics, and others interested in literature and the arts for presentations, readings, and writing workshops.

This year's conference will feature Robert Gipe, author of Trampoline: An Illustrated Novel; Arnow scholar Martha Billips; former Kentucky Poet Lau-

$20 Billion biennial Kentucky budget

By Jonathon Shell State Representative

It is crunch time for us to get the budget moving. The Kentucky State Constitution requires us to pass a balanced budget and we spects the precious dollars you send to us. We have a $20 billion biennial budget, and we must reign in our spending excesses by prioritizing what is most important, just like you must do in your own home. We must work towards a budget that responsibly and sustainably addresses the unfunded liabilities in our pension systems. House Leadership just released their budget on Tuesday of this week. Governor Bevin released his budget proposal the end of January, after only being in office a little over a month. However, the actual budget must start in the House, and House Leadership chose to hold off public debate until this week. That leaves us a limited amount of time to pass it and get it to the Senate. Regardless of this short time table, I will work hard to make sure our state gets a fiscally re-

Last week I welcomed Amy Yates, Jennifer White, and some of their fellow social workers to the Capitol. We met with the Governor's office on several issues including their budget. Our social, workers are some of the finest and hardworking people in the state, which is why I was ecstatic to see Governor Bevin include pay raises for them in his budget proposal. I also was excited to have the Rockcastle County High School Teenage Republicans in town. It was fun getting to spend time with such a bright group of young people. They attended committee meetings with me, visited my office, visited the floor during session, and we also got to take a picture with the Governor.

In my Banking and Insurance Committee, we passed several noncontroversial bills, including one relating to insurance coverage for autism spectrum disorders. My Local Government Committee followed a similar pattern, including passing a bill relating to the distribution of federal low-income housing tax credits.

In an issue that is a priority to supporters of the Second Amendment across the Commonwealth, House Bill 314 overwhelmingly passed the House of Representatives. This bill allows offduty and retired law enforcement officers to carry concealed firearms at any location where on-duty officers can. Putting more firearms in the hands of good guys is the easiest way to stop a bad guy with a firearm. Every House Republican was honored to support this bill, and we eagerly await action from the Senate on this legisla-

Washington, DC is known for gridlock and bickering. However, I was thrilled to see the US Senate pass the Comprehensive Addiction and Recovery Act. The bill attempts to tackle the prescription opioid and heroin epidemic and tackles substance abuse on multiple fronts. The federal bill would enhance prevention, education, treatment and recovery programs, and aid to law enforcement. While there is no magic wand, this bill has the potential to be a big help in our community's battle against drugs.

As always, I welcome your comments and concerns on any issues facing our Commonwealth during the 2016 Regular Session. I can be reached through the toll-free message line in Frankfort at 1-800-372-7181, or you can contact me via email at jonathan.shell@lrc.ky.gov.

Thanks to wonderful women at Brodhead Baptist Church who served dinner for the family after my Aunt Jean's funeral, I was reminded of some the best "Oldie but Goodie" recipes in my books. The following three were severed for our dinner and I'd like to share the recipes with you.

CORN PUDDING SQUARES

If you want it a little spicy, just add some jalapeño or

1 can (15 ounce) whole kernel corn, undrained 1 can (14 ounce) cream style

1 cup sour cream

1/2 cup butter or margarine, melted 1 box. (8 ounce) Jiffy®

cornbread/muffin mix

2 eggs Preheat oven to 350°. In a large mixing bowl, combine all ingredients; stir just until combined. Pour into greased 9 x 13 baking dish. Bake at 350° for 40 to 45 minutes or until wooden toothpick inserted near the center comes out clean. Cool for 15 minutes on wire racks before cutting. Serve warm. Makes 12 servings.

MICHIGAN BROCCOLI CASSEROLE 2 packages (10 ounces each) frozen broccoli

OR 2 bunches fresh broccoli 1/2 cup mayonnaise or Miracle Whip®

2 eggs, slightly beaten 1 can cream of mushroom

1 cup sharp cheddar cheese, shredded

1 stack Ritz® crackers, crushed

1 stick butter

Preheat oven to 350°. Cook broccoli according to package directions. If using fresh, cut into bite-sized pieces and steam or boil until fork tender. Drain. Add Miracle Whip®, eggs, soup and cheese. Mix thoroughly. Pour into buttered 2-quart casserole dish. Melt butter. Add to crushed crackers; spread evenly over casserole. Bake for 35 minutes. NOTE: I have also used the Mexican Blend of cheese in this casserole with great results.

CREAM OF COCONUT CAKE 1 box yellow cake mix, plus ingredients listed on box

FFA members compete in Regional Paperwork Day

Submitted by Reporter Sierra Sturgill

On March 9th, several members of the Rockcastle County FFA Chapter traveled to Laurel County to the Center of Innovation for Regional Paperwork Day.

Rockcastle had two teams that competed in two different contests and both teams were able to win 1st place. James Clay Ballinger was one of the two people selected from the Kentucky River Region to represent in state officer elections in the summer. Eric Bullock was elected as the Kentucky River Region President for the 2016-2017 year.

The local Junior Varsity Parliamentary Procedure Team was able to place 1st in the region. The team includes President Sydney Hines, Vice President Hope Holbrook, Secretary Autumn Davidson, Treasurer Hannah Denny, Reporter Elisha Blanton, and Sentinel

Cole Ballinger. There were four members. The members include Jarrett Burke, Daya McGuire, Tiffany McGuire, and Heather Miller. Shaylin Howerton was the alternate member. The junior varsity team will advance on to compete at State Convention in June.

The Nursery/Landscape team also competed and was able to place 1st in the region. Team members include Paul Holbrook, Ryan Kirby, and Andrew Joshua McKinney. Ryan Kirby was regional 1st high individual. Paul Holbrook and Andrew Joshua McKinney tied for regional 2nd high individual. The nursery/landscape team will go on to compete at State Fair in August.

We are all proud of the members that competed on the teams and are excited to see them compete in the near future. We wish them all luck!

James Clay Ballinger is a state officer candidate.

BES Academic Team competes in 24th Regional Governor's Cup

Brodhead Elementary Academic Team traveled to Farristown Middle School on Saturday, March 12th to compete in the 24th Regional Governor's Cup Competition. Students competed in the areas of Quick Recall, and written assessment. Our students were very successful and their hard work paid off in the end. BES students received 4th place overall in the Quick Recall tournament and won the Hume Sportsmanship award. Individual award winning students in the written assessment competition were; Samuel Burdine (5th place Science), Madalyn White (2nd place Arts and Humanities), Kaitlyn Burgin (5th place Arts and Humanities), and Callie Creech (2nd place Written Composition). We are very proud of our students' success.

Child care providers eligible for scholarship

Kentucky's child care providers and those who train child care providers may be eligible for the Early Childhood Development Scholarship to further their college educa-

The application deadline for summer classes is April 15. The deadline for fall classes is July 15.

The scholarships are available to those who work at least 20 hours per week in a participating early childhood facility. Kentuckians employed as a preschool associate teacher in a state-funded preschool program are also eligible.

Recipients must be working toward an associate's or bachelor's degree in early childhood education or other approved credential. Depending on funding, the scholarship will pay up to $1,800 for tuition each year. Students may not of classes per semester.

The scholarship is administered by the Kentucky Higher Education Assistance Authority (KHEAA), the agency that administers state aid programs, including the Kentucky Educational Excellence Scholarship (KEES).

To apply, students must submit the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) and an Early Childhood Development Scholarship application. The FAFSA is available at www.fafsa.gov. The scholarship application is available at www.kheaa.com. To complete the scholarship application, students must set up a KHEAA account. After registering, sign in, then select Apply Online for Scholarships.

verication process seriously

Used to apply for most federal and many state student aid programs, the FAFSA asks detailed questions about the income and resources of students. Parents are required to provide their information as well if their children are dependent students. Students are considered dependent if they are undergraduate students under 24 years old, not married, have no dependents of their own, are not veterans or were not orphans or wards of the court until age 19.

The college or, in some cases, an agency working with the college will contact students to let them know if their data is being verified.

Students and parents need to take that process seriously, according to the Kentucky Higher Education Assistance Authority (KHEAA). Students chosen for verification cannot receive their financial aid until they have completed the process. As soon as they are contacted, they should provide any information that is required. Putting it off will only lead to frustration if the process isn't finished when classes are ready to

If students have decided not to attend a college that asked them for verification, they should let the college know so it will stop requesting information.
